preliminary held on Sat., Aug. 24, were Glengarry Dairy Princess Jill Pemberton and Grey Dairy Princess Lynn Spencer. Lori Hamilton and Kim Cope-land were chosen high point girls from the four preliminary nights of competition.

Other contestants in the final preliminary were Dairy Princesses from Bruce, Carolyn Strang; Frontenac, Cheryl Hogan; Lambton, Helen Lammers; Perth, Nancy Johnston; Renfrew, Joanne Douwes; Russell, Martine Lafleche; and Wentworth, Janet Pennema.

The 1985-86 Ontario Dairy Princess will conduct public relations activities on behalf of Ontario's dairy farmers during her twelve month reign. To become Ontario Dairy Princess, a contestant is judged on her public speaking ability, knowledge of the dairy industry, maturity, personality and poise. The winner's prizes include a trip to Great Britain, a dairy calf and a silver tea service.

Rash of break ins last week in Madoc

Over the past week there have been a total of four break-ins at businesses in Madoc and one in Queensboro that netted cash and merchandise for suspects still at large, reported Ontario Provincial Police, Madoc Detachment.

An additional break-in took place last weekend at Canadian Tire store in Madoc, said police, but details were not given at press time.

In the early hours of August 29, Hawley's Pro Hardware, Angelo's Sports Wear Ltd., Sears of Madoc, and Queensboro store were entered and an undetermined amount of cash and merchandise was stolen. The suspects also damaged a door to Madoc IGA while trying to gain entry, but the door held.

The culprits pried a door open at Hawley's Hardware and stole a quantity of cash. At Angelo's a window in a rear garage was smashed for entry and a quantity of cash and valuables were stolen. Someone kicked the door in at Sears to gain entry. In Queensboro, a side window was smashed, enabling suspects to enter and steal a quantity of cigarettes.

So far there have been no arrests made. Officer A. Borger continues investigation.

Juniors ball team champs

August 24th, in Claremont, with rainy weather causing a three hour delay, the Madoc Juniors started their bid for the OASA Championship.

Their first game was against Havelock. Gary Finch pitched the complete game with Madoc defeating Havelock seven to three (7-3). Their next game on Saturday was against Merlin with Randy Gray and Gary Finch sharing the pitching duties and defeated Merlin by a score of (7-4), seven to four.

In a very close game on Sunday morning the Madoc team met Chesley with neither of these teams having lost a game to this point. The loser would have to play several games back to back in order to stay in the competition.

In the 4th, inning with the score 1-0 for Madoc and 2 men on and no one out, the 3rd batter hit a long fly ball to centre fielder Dave Weir, who with nagging problems to his shoulder, made a throw to second base to hold the man on first with the other run scoring. This made one out and the score was tied. Dave Weir had to come out of the game at that point and following the game was taken to Uxbridge hospital.

Play continued and the man on first was thrown out going to second by catcher Doug Reid and the next batter was struck out by Gary Finch thus retiring the side.

The score remained tied for the 5th inning and in the top of the 6th inning with one out Brian Reid hit a home run putting Madoc up 2-1. The next batter Gary Finch got on with a walk followed by Kevin McCoy getting on with an error to the pitcher. Perry McCluckie grounded out to short stop making two out and two men on base. Randy Gray then came up and knocked in Gary Finch with a single making the score 3-2, Madoc, which was how this very exciting game ended putting Madoc in the finals against either Merlin or Chesley with Chesley coming out the winner.

This put the championship game Cent'd on page 7

which is non-Canadian in origin and has no real significance in Canada, to Peace Day coming as it does immediately after Christmas, which is the celebration of the birthday of the Prince of Peace.

The Lester B. Pearson Peace Park, established as part of Canada's Centennial, has long advocated a legal holiday in Canada as Peace Day and Boxing Day, which is already a legal holiday, will achieve the same results simply by changing the name from Boxing Day to Peace Day which would indicate to the world Canada's interest in peace.

If Canada would provide leadership in this, eventually other nations of the world might follow its example and some day we may have a Day of Peace celebrated by all the nations of the world.

NOTE: It remains somewhat of a mystery how the following letter appeared in a large daily newspaper, but the characters it is, some local, may put a smile on your faces. It turns out a man named Paul Corey, with wife and three-year-old boy had some car trouble in these parts when he tried to make it to a friend's birthday party, and a Madoc OPP officer did what not many of us would dare do: And so here it is...

By Paul Corey:

You will never believe how hard Mary and I tried to get back for your Mary's surprise birthday party.

We were enjoying the sounds and colors of Lake Kawarake north of Kingston. Brennan caught seven rock bass in less than 10 minutes. Not bad for a 3 Year old's first attempt at angling! All very pleasant. We couldn't have guessed that a shaggy Volvo story lay ahead.

First our new Volvo wouldn't start and was towed away for a closer look by some local, recommended mechanics. Mary was anxious to get home. She was unhappy that we couldn't leave the day before the party but a timer belt had to be brought in from Kingston. It appears that Volvo owners must be prepared even for a chipmunk doing light house-keeping in the timer compartment. AN OMEN OF DISTASTER

Mary brightened at 10 a.m. Friday when they said the Volvo was ready. My cottage host pointed out a screwdriver left on an engine ledge. How did we miss that omen?

By noon we were driving on Highway 7 just west of Kaladar when I lost power. I was able to coast to a very narrow shoulder. I felt uncomfortable leaving wife and son there as I hitchhiked to Kaladar. But the kind owner of Paddick's Sunoco listened to my plight and said: 'Take the truck'.

I collected the family. Mary entertained Brennan as best she could by running him up and down, buying treasures at a yard sale and exploring a fruit stand which sold, strangely enough, New Jersey blueberries. And the garage found a shredded timer belt without a replacement in sight till Monday.

Wanting desperately to get back, we agreed to be towed to Toronto at a very, very high price. It was after 4 when we returned to the Volvo in a van that was going to take us home. A problem! Volvos may not always run but they sure are built. The towing device couldn't be clamped, around the thick bumper. Out came the old-fashioned way, a chain, and we were towed to Actionline. The man said he would return with better equipment.

Having become accustomed to the easy-going attitude toward time in cottage country, I was not worried when he didn't return immediately. Two hours passed. By 8, I was on the phone trying to track him, running short of coins and calling on the operator for mercy. She promised to call the O.P.P.

UNCLE WALT TO THE RESCUE

Around 9, an O.P.P. cruiser arrived. Walter Sawkins, a constable from Madoc, introduced himself as Uncle Walt to Brennan. Then he found with his two-way radio what my dwindling supply of coins couldn't. Yes, we were abandoned by the man from Flinton. No there were no nearby Volvo mechanics at work. He sized up the situation. Seeing how exhausted both Mary and Brennan were, he drove us to his Madoc headquarters and lent us his new Firebird so that we could drive to friends in Peterboro.

Next morning Mary and Brennan busied home while I returned Uncle Walt's car. And he, in order to increase my options, persuaded an employee of the local Pontiac dealership to go with him to Actionline and tow my car to Madoc. Dan Jones, the owner's son, told me I had met a unique individual. As if I needed to be told that. Later, in a tow truck taking me to Belleville, it was said again that Walt would always give you a chance after your first offence. Just the first.

From Belleville I was towed to my door by a fine man Floyd Adams, arriving Saturday night - a day after your party - to be met by the catcalls of my GM-owning neighbors. I met nice people over the 30 hours. But one especially. Some day I hope to do a favor for Uncle Walt.

School Daze, School Daze, Good ol' golden rule days! Ha! ha! Where have you been? Hands up please from those who enjoyed their school days. (Thank you, please put them down and resume reading).

etc. ...

If you are up on modern education, you are aware that the golden rule is now tarnished and in danger of becoming rusty. It has been observed by some people (moralists, philosophers, preachers, politicians, conservatives, liberals, etc.) that the day of 'do unto others' has become 'do to thyself first'!

Nostalgia buffs love to return to one and two-room schoolhouses and run their fingernails across slate boards and inhale the dust as they pound the stuffing of blackboard erasers. I remember how I used to wave my arm in the air with the hope of being chosen to go outside for that 'task'.

At the risk of sounding cynical, I must report that some teachers are upset over the new ways of education. One acquaintance retired early from teaching when she discovered that a student could stand in class and tell her where to go, (and it wasn't to the bathroom). Horror tales are reported regarding armed guards and armed students in large city schools. Of course that could never happen in our schools. How did it happen that students can sue teachers if the way rules are enforced is not liked?

Private, public and parochial schools have us embroiled in controversy while parents are up in arms and complaining about the lack of more intelligent graduates. I guess getting an 'A' in lunch period, study hall and spitwadding doesn't count much towards life skills!

Just in case you've been away too long, schools is in session in our province. Rulers, pens, pencils, erasers and spitwads once again occupy children's attention.

A question, 'should the golden rule be brought out again to give our education the edge that seems to have gotten ragged'?

Good answer! And I know you, well, you know, etc.

Fall martial arts program to start

Starting Monday, September 9, CHSS Martial Arts Club will again hold classes in Gym 3 at Centre Hastings Secondary School in Madoc.

Classes will be held once a week, at 6 p.m. for children and 7 p.m. for adults. In the case of families who want to practise together, children are welcome in the 7 p.m. class as well.

Three oriental martial arts are offered in this, the third year of the club's existence: Karate, Jiu Jitsu and Kung Fu; all under the guidance of professional martial arts instructor Robert Walther. All courses are certificate-granting.

A typical class is divided into five segments: warm-ups, basic techniques, Kata drills, Jiu Jitsu techniques and sparring. The warm-ups are further divided into three sections - which include a general limbering from head to toe, a stretching segment for the legs and time devoted to cardio-vascular and strengthening exercises. All classes end with a cool-down period.

Good conditioning is directly related to progress in the martial arts, and beginners usually discover a change in their physical condition once they have spent some time in the program. In some cases great improvements were seen after just seven weeks of classes.

In order to achieve results such as these, traditional martial arts instructors demand a thoroughly disciplined atmosphere in their classes. There is an emphasis on protocol, good manners, respect, hard work, regular attendance and sincere effort. Great emphasis is placed on producing fine form in technique, fine form in a student's composure. The beginner's course in Karate, for example, stresses good balance and co-ordination. Two basic stances, the kiba dachi and the zenkutsu dachi, are taught, along with four basic blocks, four knifehand (shuto) strikes, elbow strikes and the taisho or palm heel strike. Legs are used in the front kick, side kick, side step kick, low side jump kick, back kick, back stepkick, roundhouse kick and three kick combinations. Walking in the zenkutsu dachi, or forward stance, using various techniques is taught next. Two drills, 27 Movements (niyu Shichi Waza) and Zen Shin Kotai round out the program.

All age groups are welcome at the Club. Expect a good hard workout and expect many accomplishments! For further information, on the course and the Club, call 473-4366.

machine had met with tragedy. Standing in the rain with my shoulders hunched forward as a feeble attempt at protecting my camera, I saw three young male faces with flattened hair and solemn expressions talking through the heavy atmosphere. Immediately behind them was a crumpled piece of blue tinfoil, that once must have been a car. It rested on the steep grade of the east ditch, with the twisted front end facing skyward. Further south, and over in the west ditch of Highway 62, I saw the other half of the story. I quickly took pictures of both smashed vehicles, then turned toward my car. But something drew me back to that blue car for one last look.

I kept telling myself that nothing would be gained by going for a look inside the car. I knew the OPP would provide the necessary information later, as a matter of routine. I still moved toward that car. Even before I could see inside, I was close enough to smell it. It, to me, was the smell of fear, pain, perhaps even death. Looking inside the driver's deformed window, I saw some of what happened... Almost felt it. There was a running shoe about the size of a men's seven actually resting on the brake pedal. A piece of bloodied paper towel lay on the hump between the front seats; shattered eyeglasses on the dash; laundry and suitcase in the back. Also, on the back seat, a flattened certified cheque lay conspicuously. I did not look closer for a name. As I walked, then, drove, the same words went through my mind over and over: 'It's too bad - it's just too bad.' And the investigating OPP officer, the bystanders, friends of the family, and the doctors are all probably saying the same thing...

Havelock Terry Fox Run set for September 15th

The 5th Annual Terry Fox Run, Sunday, September 15, 1985, will be held in Havelock sponsored by the Havelock-Belmont Legion Branch 389, starting at 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Opening ceremonies are at 10 a.m. The run consists of 10 km. or six miles, twice around the town, starting at the Legion on Highway 7. Pledge sheets are available at the post office in any town, and Stedman's and Becker's in Havelock. Registration is $5 for the 10 km stint. Persons not wishing to use a pledge sheet may participate by just paying the fee, and doing the walk. Donations will be also accepted at the Legion.

At the end of the run, children will receive chips and pop, adults coffee and donuts. Also Terry Fox buttons and balloons will be given out. Prizes will also be awarded. Certificates will be received by those who complete the run along with date seals for those who already have certificates. Make this year's run twice the success, bring a friend. Walk it, jog it, with your dog, jog it, bike it, wheel it, skate it and even ride your horse, but show Terry that we can carry on where he left off. We'll be looking for you.

The Marmora Fair took advantage of good weather over the weekend to hold one of the most successful fairs ever. One fairboard spokesperson thought the attendance was up for all three days. The Labor Day event got off with a bang on Saturday night when the demolition derby drew a large crowd and drivers from around the area. Many people came to the fair just to see the horse races but the horse pulls also attracted many loyal fans. A runaway team resulted in two serious injuries, but that was the only flaw in an otherwise flawless fair.

An evening with Iona Campagnolo

The Quinte Branch of Operation Dismantle is presenting Iona Campagnolo, president of the Liberal Party of Canada, and the recipient of the 1984 Hanna Newcombe Peace Award as the guest speaker at a dinner at the Ramada Inn in Belleville on Monday, September 9, at 8 p.m.

Ms. Campagnolo was awarded the Hanna Newcombe Award by Operation Dismantle Inc. for her personal endorsement of a nuclear freeze during the 1984 Federal election campaign. The award is given annually to an individual who has taken significant personal risks for the cause of peace.

Ms. Campagnolo will discuss Canada's role in increasing world security in the nuclear age. The dinner is the first of a planned series of events at which representatives of Canada's major political parties will be sharing their views on Canada's role in maintaining world peace and working towards nuclear disarmament.

Dinner tickets are $20 per person, and are available by sending a cheque to Operation Dismantle, Quinte Branch, 97 Sidney St. No. 605, Belleville. Tickets can also be obtained at the Briar Patch at Century Place, Belleville, or by calling 968-4010.

MNR to test new vaccination

Next month, the Ministry of Natural Resources will start assessing a new vaccination strategy for controlling rabies in wild foxes.

Ministry aircraft will drop 12,700 baits - liver-coated sponge cubes containing a liquid rabies vaccine - in a test area bounded by Goderich, Blyth, Seaforth and Bayfield in southwestern Ontario.

'Baits with a marker dye were dropped in the same area last year, and subsequent studies showed that two out of every three foxes ate the sponge cube,' said Natural Resources Minister Vincent Kerrio.

The vaccine to be used in this trial will distribute around the mouth of the fox as it chews the sponge, and then be absorbed into its system. The vaccine has proven effective in 80 per cent of the foxes tested in the laboratory.

'Selected trappers have agreed to collect fox blood samples between mid-October and mid-November. An analysis of these samples will tell us how effective this immunization procedure has been. Once we have these results, we hope to be able to put into effect full-scale control for high rabies areas of Ontario,' said Mr. Kerrio.

The vaccine has been proven safe should accidental contact occur with pets or humans. However, it should not be considered an adequate immunizing agent if one of the baits is eaten by a pet.

The plastic bags are clearly marked with a warning label. Residents are being asked not to touch them. The baits will be dropped on gravel pits, fields, and along the edge of woodland - away from human habitation.

As part of this control strategy, work is also under way to produce longer-lasting vaccines that will be effective on skunks as well as foxes.

Algae bloom naturally caused

The 1984 algae bloom in Stoco Lake near the village of Tweed was an unusual but natural phenomenon, a report released recently by the Ontario Ministry of the Environment states.

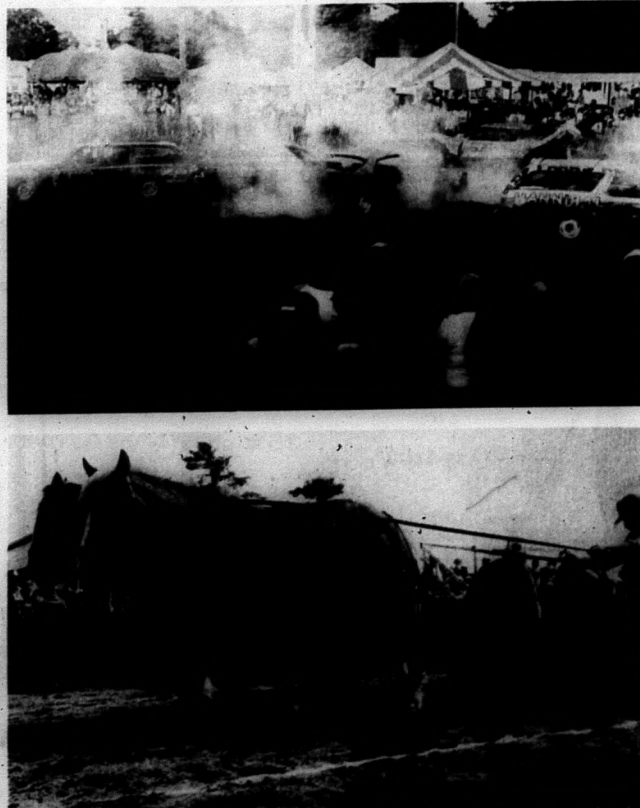

The report on the 'Investigation of Nuisance Algae and Water Quality of Stoco Lake' absolves

the Village of Tweed sewage treatment lagoon as the cause of excessive phosphorous that contributed to the algae bloom in the summer of 1984.

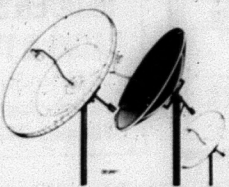

The study found that the floating blue-green algae that developed on the open waters of the lake were blown by a light breeze to concentrate on the Greenwood Park shore. That kept the recreational area unfit for swimming for several days.

The report notes that the water quality in Stoco Lake has improved significantly since the sewage treatment facilities were upgraded in 1976. While Stoco Lake remains a very productive body of water, the algae develop easily under certain conditions.

The initiative of landowners along the Otonabee River is resulting in protection for the river's banks. The threat of loss of property and the need for aesthetically pleasing control has led landowners to the Otonabee Region Conservation Authority for advice.

Ronald Brown of Otonabee Township

The numbers grow every long weekend. More people are killed, more people are injured in road accidents.

This is one problem you can do something about. You know how to prevent an accident. Stay sober, stay cool and drive sensibly, keep the car in good condition, wear your seat belt.

St. John Ambulance first aiders say you can also help if you see an accident.

Landowners battle erosion

The initiative of the Conservation Authority regarding the construction of a retaining wall which would also allow access to the water. A wall of armour stone five tiers high and approximately 30 metres long was designed and installed by a local contractor. Behind the stone is a continuous blanket of geotextile or filter cloth which will allow the passage of water but not the soil.

Landowners on the river have been known to lose as much as three feet of their property in a single year, property on which they still have to pay taxes even though it has disappeared downstream.

Other landowners have used gabion 'baskets', timber or concrete retaining walls, rip-rap or other methods of control. All methods can be helpful if constructed properly. ORCA staff are available to give free advice on the most appropriate means of construction as each site requires special consideration.

A recent change in ORCA floodplain policy allows staff to grant permits for erosion control works under most circumstances without review by the Executive, thus speeding up the approval process.

All works of this nature require a permit from ORCA prior to work being performed.

You can help!

There are steps you can take quickly to prevent the accident from getting worse, to help victims and get emergency professionals to the scene. Boiled down, they are, stay calm, protect the scene, reassure the victims and get help.

St. John teaches emergency response and first aid skills in a First Aid for Drivers course. The step-by-step procedure goes like this:

1. Take a deep breath, and stay calm. Act quickly but coolly.

2. Watch for danger as you approach the accident. There might be fallen electrical wires, leaking gas tanks—heavy traffic.

3. Protect the scene by turning off ignition and lights in accident vehicles. Don't let anyone smoke.

4. Take control. If there are other people available, have them send for help, control traffic if it's needed, put out flares, help look after casualties.

5. Check for life-threatening injuries for first aid treatment. They will include stopped breathing, severe bleeding, unconsciousness, shock. Until you have checked injuries, don't move anyone from the damaged car or truck because you could make an injury much worse. The obvious exception is when a person is in danger, from fire, from traffic.

When you call police for help, make sure they know exactly where you are. They should also know how many people are injured, what the injuries are and about any hazards such as fire or fallen wires.

When you've checked the victims for life-threatening problems, look again.

Severe Bleeding

Severe bleeding requires immediate attention. St. John Ambulance says you can control it by applying direct pressure on the wound with a clean dressing or with your hand if necessary. Raise the wounded arm, leg or head above heart level and place the casualty at rest. Maintain pressure as long as necessary, and get medical help. Contact your local St. John Ambulance branch for a First Aid course.

Make sure everyone is accounted for. Accident victims can be thrown quite a distance, they've been known to wander off. Provide first aid for other injuries.

When police or ambulance arrive, tell them what you know and what you've done. If they brush you off, don't take it personally. They'll take control of the situation, but will probably ask you to wait. Write down details while you remember them, date them and sign them.

Are Granny Flats the answer for our seniors

Granny flats may help to house Canada's growing senior population, according to University of Guelph professor, Joan Simon. The idea of housing the elderly in a small backyard house originated in Australia a decade ago. Three year test projects are being run by the Ontario government's Ministry of Housing in Sudbury, Ottawa and Kitchener-Waterloo. An architectural firm with which Prof. Simon is associated is designing the houses which people will move into this fall.

The buildings are self-contained one bedroom units of about 500 square feet. Prof. Simon compares them to apartments in senior citizens' housing units. She points out that, instead of being in an apartment, the elderly will be living in an independent unit next to the family.

According to Prof. Simon, who teaches in the University of Guelph's College of Family and Consumer Studies, the units are intended to economically provide seniors with some independence, and keep them out of nursing-homes for as long as possible.

The elderly have the reassurance of knowing that help and company are close at hand without the inconvenience to everyone of living under the same roof with the children, she explains.

The houses are temporarily placed in a backyard, hooked up to existing services, and rented to the inhabitants by the government for an indefinite period. When no longer needed, a unit will be removed and relocated. No one other than a parent, not even a brother or sister, can live there.

Some special features are grab bars in the bathroom and a highly efficient heating system that costs about $100 for the entire year.

Appearance of the units is a major concern to the Ministry. 'Temporary to a lot of people means a mobile home, and they don't want one in their garden or their neighbor's,' the University of Guelph professor explains. 'There is also the problem of compatibility with the neighborhood and the host house. Should we design a unit that resembles a little sister behind a big sister?'

To meet these challenges, Simon Architects and Planners designed a unit that resembles a garden pavilion and should blend into any situation. 'They're made of wood and covered with a trellis,' she says. 'We hope that people really will grow vines and roses up the trellis.'

Cost of the units if they are mass produced should hover around $30,000. Currently, a unit charged by the Ministry for the demonstration projects are comparable to one-bedroom apartments in the various communities, and range from $300 to $380. Ottawa is more expensive than Sudbury.

Prof. Simon expects to learn a great deal from the demonstration unit. 'The experience helps us to better design and build the units,' she says. 'Planning bylaws and zoning regulations will have to be modified to allow their use on a temporary basis.'

Car repairs... be ready

Car owners who are good at describing noises like 'clang', 'sputter' and 'clunk' may be able to save money and time on vehicle repairs.

An accurate and detailed description of a car's problem complete with sound effects makes the mechanic's job easier by helping pinpoint the source of trouble, say experts with the Ontario Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations (MCCR).

'Be as specific as possible about how your car has been running,' says Dave Mitchell of MCCR. 'If it's been making odd noises, describe them as graphically as possible - a sputter is not the same as a clunk. When did you hear the noise? What speed were you doing? Were you changing gears or turning a corner? If you just dump the car at the garage and say, 'It keeps stalling,' the job's sure to take longer and may cost more.' Another excellent way to get better car repair service is to find a good garage and become a regular customer. The mechanic will get to know your vehicle and should have less trouble diagnosing problems. Choosing a garage by trial and error alone can get expensive, so ask friends or a neighborhood car buff to recommend a shop, then try it out.

Managing your money

A fair number of readers have asked that last May's federal budget proposal about the Registered Home Ownership Savings Plan (RHOSP) be explained in more detail.

The RHOSP program was started in 1974. It allowed Canadian taxpayers who were not homeowners to deduct from their income up to $1,000 a year, if the money was invested in a RHOSP. The lifetime maximum was $10,000. The tax deduction could apply only if the money you amassed in a RHOSP was used to purchase a home.

The RHOSP program was designed to encourage Canadians to become home buyers. Because both a husband and wife could own a RHOSP, it meant $2,000 a year could be tax-sheltered in such a plan. In a 10-year period a couple could accumulate a total of $20,000 which ordinarily would be more than sufficient as a down payment for a home.

However, effective last May 23, contributions to RHOSP can no longer be made on a tax-free basis. This tax incentive to become a home buyer has been abolished. (Back in 1983 the provincial tax deduction for RHOSP contributions was eliminated in Quebec.)

The decision to scrap the RHOSP hasn't yet been backed by law. At this time it's still only a budget proposal. Parliament may decide in its wisdom to continue the program, although such a decision is unlikely. The point to remember is that the RHOSP abolition is still only a legislative proposal. Parliament hasn't yet voted on the plan. That will happen this autumn, and there doesn't appear to be much hope that the May budget proposal will be retracted.

There are some fundamental rules to remember about your RHOSP, if you had one prior to the May 22nd budget. The first, and most important, is that contributions to your RHOSP made from Jan. 1, 1985, up to and including May 22, can be claimed as a tax deduction, when you make out your 1985 income tax return next spring.

Another significant benefit to you is that all your contributions to a RHOSP, plus the money the plan has earned, may be withdrawn by the end of 1985 on a tax-free basis. You can use the money for any purpose you desire. That means you don't have to spend the money you've accumulated in your RHOSP on actually buying a house.

There are about $2 billion in accumulated funds in existing RHOSPs.

However, although you may still have a RHOSP with a financial institution, any contributions made to your plan after

Applications forms available for tornado assistance

Application forms are now available for a provincial government low-interest program to assist farmers who suffered tornado damage this past spring.

Farmers in Central Ontario affected by the May 31 tornado can apply for loans to cover the cost of rebuilding and replacing assets that were damaged by the tornado. The program is intended to make up the difference between the cost of rebuilding and money available from both insurance and the Disaster Relief Fund.

About 200 farmers suffered damage from the tornado, with half of them sustaining losses serious enough to disrupt their day-to-day operations of their farms.

Farmers can obtain application forms and assistance in completing the forms from Ministry of Agriculture and Food offices in areas affected by the storm. The affected areas include Wellington, Bruce, Grey, Dufferin, South Simcoe, Victoria, Perth, Peterborough and Hastings counties as well as the regional municipali-

May 22, will not be tax deductible. As well, earnings on those contributions are taxable.

The average taxpayer should leave his or her RHOSP in existence up to the end of the year. But keep in mind that RHOSP accounts after December 31, 1985, will be designated by Revenue Canada as a "trust" and therefore, vulnerable to tax in 1986 at the highest personal tax rate, for any plan earnings beginning next Jan. 1.

It is obviously in your best interests to terminate your RHOSP shortly before Dec. 31. You may transfer your money into another investment vehicle, such as a bank term deposit or a soundly managed mutual fund.

Some people believe eliminating the RHOSP will diminish the demand for housing, because individuals and couples won't have that tax-sheltered method of amassing a down payment. That's true only up to a point. We'll look at the alternatives in a later column.

Group, the Winnipeg-based financial planning services company.)

I WON - This dog reacted to the applause after this segment of the mutt show by jumping in the air. It looked like he was saying, I won! I won! This competition was very popular with the children of the area and will likely get even more popular now that people know what to expect at these shows. Any dog, regardless of size, shape or color can enter and has a chance to win a prize. Prizes were given out for the longest tail, the shortest and fattest dog, shortest legs, most spots and the homeliest dog; there was even a best dressed category. This ride was one of the more popular rides on the midway - for those people who enjoyed standing and watching other people come off the rides scared to death.

It was a very popular ride, until a person went on it once.

In Metro Toronto, garages are required by law to get approval for any extra charges. They must also post notices listing their rates.

But in other areas of the province, it's up to the consumer to ask the necessary questions and insist on getting everything in writing.

All estimates should include a breakdown of costs for parts and labor. If a part is to be replaced, ask the mechanic to keep the defective one until you get a chance to look at it.

Contact the nearest Consumer Services Bureau of MCCRC if you feel you have been unfairly or dishonestly treated.

Loans from chartered banks, trust companies and the credit unions will be made available at prime lending rates. These loans will be guaranteed by the Province of Ontario. Loans will also be available from the Farm Credit Corporation at its five-year rate. Borrowers pay six per cent interest for five years, with an additional one per cent added each subsequent year until the 10-year maximum repayment period ends. The maximum repayment period for inventory loss is three years.

The government pays the difference between the prime rate or the FCC five-year rate and the rate of interest paid by eligible farmers.

A similar program is being made available to manufacturing, commercial and service businesses through the Ontario Development Corporation of the Ministry of Industry and Trade.

Feet Feat Fete

Foreigners say that the English language is one of the most difficult and confusing, with its synonyms, homonyms etc. Take the word rain, for example... sounds just like rein and reign. The one word, run, has maybe a dozen meanings. Then there's feet, feet, fete. (My wife just told me that fete is pronounced late. See how confusing it really is? I've been trying to speak the language all my life, and I still don't understand it.) But that one word feet, I do understand. To us it's one of the most important words there is. And we continually study to find out all about it, so we can better fit yours. Now if we're that interested, shouldn't you care enough to get the best fit? Trust us to fit your family's feet.

1985 Fair Queen selected

Kristi Bjorndahl of Madoc donned the crown of the Madoc Fair Queen after an evening of close competition at Trinity United Church Thursday.

Debbie Shaw of Eldorado was named runner-up by the panel of three judges who congratulated the other contestants, Kate Jones and Dawn Wiggins for making the decision a tough one.

Bjorndahl will be 19 years old in October. She is in her second year at Loyalist College in Belleville, studying Medical Secretarial Arts, and hopes to be able to find work in an area doctor's office or hospital by next summer.

The four contestants were interviewed by the judges and then adjudicated on their presentation of a short speech to the audience in the church hall. Judges, selected from other area fair boards, were Ron Hamilton, Belleville, Sally Knight, Stirling, and Eileen Waite of Belleville.

Bjorndahl spoke on the history of farming and agricultural fairs in Hastings County. 'Farmers are a special breed of people and enjoy a special way of life,' she said. She outlined the importance of the fall agricultural fair in bringing farmers together and how agricultural societies formed as a result. 'We've come a long, long way,' she told the audience, comparing the modern farms of today with the pioneer homesteads of 100 years ago.

She noted that she does not come from a farm herself but has been exposed to farm life for the last five years.

1983 Fair Queen Sandra Franks and 1984 Queen Connie Taylor also addressed the assembly, reminiscing on some of the novel and exciting events that resulted from their selection as Madoc's representative at the CNE competitions. 'I shall never forget it,' said Taylor, '...best of luck to the new Fair Queen.'

While the judges were deliberating, the audience was entertained by Sherry Sager on the piano and by Master of Ceremonies, Grant Ketcheson, who delighted the crowd with his renditions of Robert Service poems.

Following the crowning of the new Fair Queen thanks were expressed to everyone who took part by Aileen Pigden, President of the Homecraft Division of the Madoc Agricultural Society and Sheila Johnson, Co-ordinator of the Fair Queen Program.

"Buck" Carswell

The village of Madoc said good-bye to Buck Carswell last week. Carswell, well known and loved by many, passed away suddenly last Wednesday at Belleville General Hospital. He was 59.

Recognized by most as the man behind the wheel of the Co-Op fuel oil truck or driving Madoc Fire Truck 1, Carswell was also a member of the village council, a community-spirited volunteer, a sportsman, an itinerant story-teller and a family man.

Village Reeve Terry Pigden...

'It's difficult to find a measure of a man's success... Buck was a member of perhaps the most exclusive group in Hastings County... a volunteer firefighter. The response of 110 men from all over the county, who came to be present at his funeral... that is a great tribute to the man and a terrific indication of the love that his fellow firemen, and indeed all of the people in this part of Hastings County had for him.'

'He was an excellent councillor... a great sense of responsibility to the individual citizen in the village.'

Madoc Co-Op Manager Bill Haveskes...

'He was a tradition... he had been driving in the oil delivery business for 40 years. He 'was' the Co-Op oil business, people called him directly, people that never came to the store... He was always around, sometimes even on his holidays, and he thought nothing of making emergency deliveries at any hour.'

'It didn't matter how many deliveries he had, though... he always had time to stop and talk...'

Madoc Fire Chief Jack Martin...

'The fire department was his whole life... he just got his 40 year medal... He's been driving the truck ever since I can remember and he always got it to the scene of the fire, no matter what...'

'I've known him since I was a child. He started with the fire department during the war, under Chief Kelly Mulrooney... He played goalie in the Trent Valley League and was a supporter of any sport in town... He was a great P-R man... I remember when we first started the firemen's booth at the fair; he had half the stuff from his wife's kitchen there!'

'We'll give him all the honours we can give him.'

Wetlands improvement project

Ducks Unlimited Canada has begun a major habitat development project at a wetlands area off the Hunt Club Road, northeast of Madoc.

The construction started last week on a dyke to hold back water and a controlling device will be built in the near future. 'The marsh area was there for many years,' said Madoc and District Chapter of Ducks Unlimited Chairman Bob Bancroft, 'and the water levels were kept up by beaver dams.'

In recent years the beavers have disappeared and the disrepair of their dams has led to significant drainage in the area. The Madoc Hunters and Anglers Club, which owns part of the wetland area, approached the Ducks Unlimited organization for assessment of the situation.

'We have had 300-400 Black Ducks and Mallards at times and many of them nesting in that area,' said Mike Quinn, President of the Club, 'but now the water has almost dried up there.'

The club has also maintained 15 Wood Duck houses in the swampy terrain since it purchased the property in 1959. The Hunters and Anglers own a 70 acre parcel with about 28 of it swampland. The area on which the new dykes and dam are being constructed is part of the nearby Gogel farm.

After forming a local chapter under Bancroft, the Ducks Unlimited organization agreed to undertake the wetlands habitat development project. 'The work will cost at least $30,000,' Bancroft says.

Last Tuesday a dredge, contracted from McFarland Construction, began building a low dyke which will take the place of the unreliable beaver dams. On the downstream side there will be left a shallow pond where the dredged material is excavated. Topsoil removed from the area will be saved and replaced on top of the dyke to encourage vegetation.

A water level controlling device will be added this fall so that next spring the water can be maintained at an optimum depth for a duck-breeding environment. 'We have a good base of vegetation,' Bancroft said, 'because the area has already been a flooded wetland.'

The Ducks Unlimited Canada organization spends millions annually on similar projects. The purpose of the group is to develop, preserve, restore and maintain the waterfowl habitat on the North American Continent.

Slo-pitch tourney

The Madoc and District Ball Association is hosting its first Swing '85 Slo-Pitch Tournament at the Madoc Ball Park.

The proceeds from this tournament will be donated to the Canadian Association for the Mentally Retarded of which fifty percent of this donation will be directed to the Mentally Retarded Associations in our own area.

In total there are fourteen local teams participating in the tournament. In order to accommodate all games, the first games will be played Thursday night and continue throughout the remainder of the weekend.

A social time will be held for the teams on Saturday night at the Madoc and District Recreation Centre with music supplied by Mike, Sure followed by the final games of the tournament on Sunday.

Each team is guaranteed at least two games before being eliminated from the tournament.

Trophies will be donated to the top team in both the A and B divisions.

To add an interesting touch to the event each team must create their own team name. Some of our local imaginations came through as seen by such names as Moira Lake Skinny Dippers, Madoc Fire Extinguishers, Madoc Township Teetotalers, Shake and Bake, Jumping Jacks and Co-Op Feeders to name a few.

Everyone is invited to come out and enjoy an entertaining weekend while supporting a worthwhile cause.

Beauty? contest in Marmora

This weekend is the weekend you've waited the whole summer for. It's the weekend of the male beauty pageant and, if you haven't done your laughing exercises, you will definitely be in pain by the time you leave the Marmora arena Saturday night.

Eleven fine examples of the modern, rebellious man will entertain you starting at 8 p.m. until you can't take any more. The event is sponsored by the Marmora Mothers' Auxiliary with all proceeds from the event going to Marmora Minor Sports.

But while this event is guaranteed to have you in stitches in jig time, there's been an ugly side to the proceedings this year (mostly the front of these contestants). Wicked Wally, Sawkins from St. Lawrence Slough better known to the pageant addicts as Gage Hill Gertie, has had a stranglehold on first place for so long that other contestants have sworn to give it their all to win top spot this year. Wally Sawkins, of course, just puts on his spacious smile and saunters away, almost like he knows something they don't. In an effort to defeat the local constabulary, contestants and judges have been 'imported' to add a truly national flavor to the proceedings and to make sure that the event isn't

Jewellery store burglarized

Nickle's Jewellery and Gifts Store was one of the several local establishments burglarized in recent days and suffered a Victim of burglary Pres Nickle stands beside a jewellery display case that was rifled by thieves in the recent rash of store break-ins. The criminals involved helped themselves to only precious items, leaving behind money and other less expensive pieces.

substantial loss on the long weekend.

Using tools stolen from the Canadian Tire garage, thieves broke into the hair-dressing salon adjoining the jewellery store and from there made their way inside. They proceeded to rifle through the store's merchandise, taking only valuable gold items.

According to owner, Pres Nickle, 'they knew what they were doing.' Glass cases which could have been smashed were carefully disassembled and only the gold rings, chains and pendants removed.

An attempt was made on the store's safe, but the culprits gave up. They also ignored less expensive jewellery and even loose change, which was all that was left overnight in the till.

'They really knew how to pick it,' said Nickle, indicating a silver bracelet worth $125 that was left untouched in one of the burglarized display-cases. Nickle admitted to suffering a substantial loss in the break-in.

There was no loss of customer's merchandise; items which are kept in the safe for appraisal or repair.

Nickle emphasized to The Review that he is 'taking steps' to improve security in the store ensuring that such an event doesn't happen again. The Madoc Detachment of the OPP continues at press time to investigate the recent rash of break-ins. They have appealed to the public to report immediately any suspicious activities or noises.

D.U. banquet and raffle

In Madoc, a fundraising Dinner and Auction will be held at the Sacred Heart Parish Hall on October 2nd. Tickets costing $30 will include a year membership in Ducks Unlimited and bar proceeds will go to the Madoc Hunters and Anglers Club. Last year the organization was able to raise $6,100.

There is also a fund-raising raffle in progress of 400 tickets costing $5 each. The draw will be made at the October 2nd Annual Dinner for a special Limited Edition Remington 700-30-06 rifle with scope and case.

Tickets for the banquet or the raffle are available from members of the Madoc Hunters and Anglers Club, Bob Bancroft at the Madoc Hotel, Mike Quinn, Dale Graham or Bruce McNevin.

"Big Cheese" in the press

The 'Big Cheese', over 3,000 lbs. big, was packed into an oversized 'hoop', or cheese press by Harold Cheese Company cheesemaker Roland (Rolly) Jackson last Tuesday.

The mammoth cheddar will be the edible representation of the 1986 International Plowing Match mascot, 'Big Cheese'. After the ton-and-a-half block is waxed and ready for storage in about two weeks, it will be decorated to look like the Plowing Match symbol.

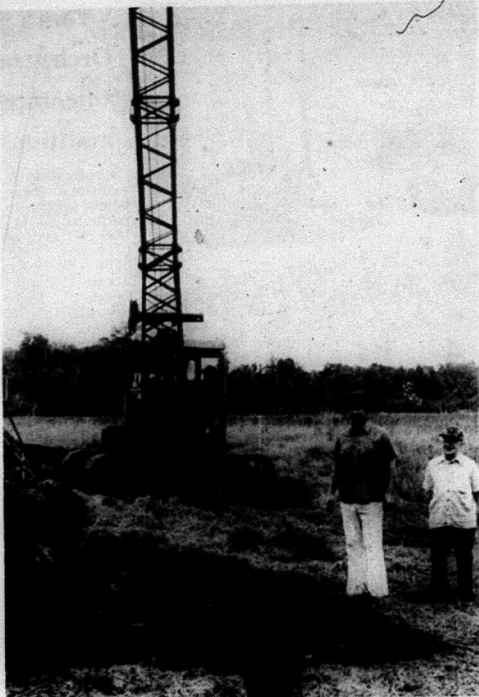

The Cheeses character was selected by the Directors of the Hastings County International Plowing Match because of the significance of the area cheesemaking industry to agriculture and the lifestyle of the County. There are at least five local cheese factories using the production of many prosperous dairy farms.

The cheese used up 36,000 lbs. or 15,700 litres, of milk, supplied by the farm of Marvin Mooney, Finance Chairman for the Plowing Match. Cheesemaker Jackson calculates that with normal losses and shrinkage the cheese will weigh 3,240 lbs., well over his goal of creating a 3,000 lb. round.

Jackson has been a cheesemaker for 22 years, 16 with the Harold Cheese Company, maker of Hastings Brand Cheese. On a normal day Jackson and three helpers make about 2,400 lbs. of cheese, so the latest creation did not really strain the company's facilities.

Bob Bancroft, Chairman of the Madoc and District Chapter of Ducks Unlimited and Mike Quinn, President of the Madoc Hunters and Anglers Club stand on the site of a waterfowl habitat improvement project taking place near Hunt Club Road, northeast of Madoc. The dredging rig, operated by Lou Grier, is creating a dyke to hold back water in the wetlands area.

Plowing match well attended

It was no day for tractors prone to overheating last Saturday at the annual ploughing match held by the Hastings County Ploughman's Association.

However, this reporter didn't see any radiators blow their tops as the farm machinery chugged along in 32 degree temperatures ploughing furrows as straight and clean as their drivers could make them. The concession booth did a brisk business in the cold drinks, the horseshoe pitchers stripped off their T-shirts, but most contestants and spectators agreed that the heat was better than the rain that had been expected.

President of the Hastings County Ploughman's Association, Andy Jongenotter, was pleased with the turnout. 'It's nice to see the young people coming out...they're having the thrill of their lives,' he said. 'There is a growing enthusiasm because of the 1986 International

Ploughing Match, but we're still looking for more competitors and volunteers.'

Contestants must be members of the Association to compete, and from the winners of this year's county match the organization will be selecting representatives for the big event next year. 'We're looking for the best,' Jongenotter said. 'There will be a lot of people watching us next fall.'

He expects that winners in Saturday's competitions will be practicing hard this fall and next spring for the International event, which should draw 150,000 spectators from all over the world.

Last weekend's match was held at the property of Joe Thompson just north of Stirling on Highway 14. There were plowing classes for all ages, dealers, antique tractors and the Queen of the Furrow Competition. Ivan Fowler, Hastings County Warden, Weiger DeJong, Reeve of Stirling and Leo Robertson, Mayor of Trenton took part in

Liberal Association holds annual picnic

The Liberal Association for the riding of Hastings Frontenac Lennox and Addington might have wished for a sunny day for their picnic, but all was not lost thanks to the availability of the dance pavilion at O'Neil's Summer Resort on North Beaver Lake near Erinsville.

Over 100 members and friends munched their way through dozens of hot dogs and corn 'fresh-picked' that morning. Among the invited guests were Len Hopkins, MP for Nipissing-Renfrew-Pembroke, Larry South, MPP for Frontenac-Addington, George

Young, President, Liberal Party of Canada (Ontario), Gordon Mylks, past candidate for Prince Edward Lennox, Ron Vastokas, past candidate for Hastings Frontenac Lennox and Addington, and Jean Schwenger, President, Kingston and the Islands. Don Boudria, MP for Glengarry-Prescott-Russell, gave a rousing speech. His many references to Tory patronage and the Tory budget were interrupted with bursts of applause and laughter. 'Patronage is a relative issue,' he said. 'John Crosbie's relatives, Joe Clark's relatives...'

Liberals came from as far away as Bancroft to enjoy this get-together. Winners of the treasure hunt questionaire were Paul Proderick and Vic Smith. The youngest in attendance was Zachary Cheetham, two months old, the most senior (who admitted it) was Myrtle Young, and Don Boudria came the furthest. Plans are already being made to make next year's picnic even bigger and better.

Madoc Township Minor Ball wrap up

The Madoc Township Minor Ball held their appreciation night on Sept. 3rd at the ball diamond.

The evening started with the house league teams playing a game between themselves. This the first year for organized house leagues and we had three teams participating.

Coaching were George Wood, Dave Paraniuk and Bob Curtis. Playing were the Prestchmanns, David, Pauline, Steven and Angela, Alex Godfrey, April, Leslie and Doug Wood, Maria Blake-ly, Charles and Jeremiah Godfrey, Rachel Hill, Andy

Rollins, Pam Franks, Wendy Embleton, Angela and Krista Paraniuk, Sol Sinclair, Brendan Wood, Matthew York, Natalie DeClair, Becky and Jennie Chapman, Melissa DeClair, Craig and Matt McCoy, Michel and Mickey Graham, Lisa Bailey, Jeremiah Weley, Kathy and Bill Watson, Todd Holmes, Jeannie and Jill Curtis, Elisha Wilson, Joey Johnson, Jim Anderson, Stacie and Brooke Johnson and Tara Baker. A total of 40 aspiring softball players.

This was followed by a two-inning game between the Atom boys and their moms. The moms won, I think! The Atoms led the league all season as well as winning league play-off trophies. The team members were Todd Matthews, Matt Holmes, Christopher Green, Ryan Burnside, Joshua Bailey, Sol Sinclair, Benjamin McEwan, George Sarrazin, Steve Garrow, Terry Trotter, Mike Blackburn, David Graham. Coaches were Bill and Lorna Matthews. They received new team uniforms this year.

This was followed by the Pee Wee girls playing their moms. I think the girls were victorious here.

Tuckers celebrate 70th anniversary

Wednesday, September 1st, 1915 saw Essie Frost and Claude Tucker united in marriage.

When the happy young couple took the evening train for Toronto and Niagara Falls, their many friends wished them a long and happy voyage over the matrimonial sea.

Who would have dreamed that 70 years later, friends, neighbours and relatives would have the opportunity to again wish them all the best?

Yes, on Sunday, September 1st, 1985 the auditorium at Hastings Manor was alive with people, some from as far away as Maple Grove, near Bowmanville, where the Tuckers farmed for 3 years, and Calgary Alberta. Arranged about the room were beautiful flowers and photos. Dainty vases of pink baby mums centered the many attractively set tables.

The honoured couple received their guests from 2 until 4 P.M., assisted by their son Roy and daughter Reta. They were the recipients of numerous greetings from MPs and other well wishers. Immediate relatives and family presented them with a lovely maple combination coffee table and magazine rack.

Claude and Essie farmed at 374 Front St. West, Stirling. The farm was purchased jointly with his father Manford, in 1923. Four children were born to the union:

Marion, Donald, Reta and Roy. Roy is still on the farm. His parents built a new home within the village limits in 1952 but continued to farm until they retired and moved first to Stirling Towers, then Hastings Manor in October of 1983.

Animal Health

Animals have rights too

A cat is soaked in gasoline and set on fire. An owner stabs his dog to death. A cat is tied to a piece of rope and dragged by a car.

These are some of the cases that Inspector Robert Cleaver has investigated during his ten years at the Ottawa Humane Society. The Criminal Code and the Humane Society Act give the inspector of a humane society the status of a police officer and the authority to bring to justice those who abuse animals.

Inspector Cleaver says the Ottawa Humane Society receives an average of 600-700 complaints each year relating to animal abuse from concerned neighbors, friends and from anonymous people. Complaints usually deal with such matters as the lack of shelter, water or food, an animal tied to a short chain or rope, abandonment, and physical abuse such as kicking and hitting.

Although there are many complaints there are few prosecutions because, according to Inspector Cleaver, "a 100 per cent watertight case is needed". So far this year there has only been one successful prosecution in Ottawa. It involved a husband and wife who were each fined $350 for leaving their Chow Chow outside during winter without adequate shelter. The dog died. In addition to the fine, the court ruled that the couple could not keep any animals for the next two years.

Inspector Cleaver receives two to six calls a day. After receiving a telephone call he goes to the address. If the owner is not there, Inspector Cleaver says he looks at the condition of the animal if it is outside and checks to make sure it has adequate shelter and water. If the animal's condition is serious, the law requires that the animal be seized immediately and be taken to a veterinarian for examination.

If the Inspector has any doubt as to the condition of the animal he will notify a veterinarian. The veterinarian will accompany the Inspector to the address and make a professional judgment as to whether abuse is present. If the animal is locked inside a house or apartment, a card is left notifying the owners of the problem and requesting them to call the Humane Society within 24 hours. If they don't contact us we must get a search warrant from the Justice of Peace to enter the home and remove the animal," says Inspector Cleaver.

The animal is then registered and placed in the observation ward at the

MEDICATION BUYING GUIDE.
Would you buy a two-year supply of eggs even if the price was right? Probably not. They'd go rotten before you ever finished them. So why then buy extra-large bottles of non-prescription drugs if you only end up throwing most of them away because their shelf life has expired?

Today's consumer must be just as wise purchasing medication as he or she is buying the household groceries. Here's what you can do.

Avoid super-size quantities of non-prescription drugs unless you know you and your family can use them up before the medication's potency diminishes. If in doubt about size and consumption rates consult your pharmacist.

If you need a prescription drug over a long period you might indeed save money by purchasing large quantities. Consult your physician though...you don't want to buy 300 capsules if you can only use 200 before their effectiveness expires.

Don't let misplaced luggage interrupt your medication schedule. Travel with a copy of your prescription on your person and carry a duplicate supply of medication in a separate place.

Canadian health care is the envy of the world. It's first class, available to all at low cost; but there is a cost. When drafting the family budget, allow for prescription and non-prescription drugs.

Your pharmacist, physician and you comprise your family's health care team. Good planning, and common sense can make this team both efficient and cost effective.

National Youth Orchestra announces auditions

ments between the ages of 10 and 28 are encouraged to apply for a free audition. Age eligibility for participation in the orchestra varies according to instrument and details are forwarded with the application form.

The National Youth Orchestra has just completed its 1985 season to critical acclaim. Writing in LeDevoir following the Montreal concert of the NYO's 1985 eastern tour, sponsored by the Royal Bank, music critic Gilles Potvin said, 'If the quality of Canadian orchestras is on the rise and if some now enjoy international recognition, the NYO is certainly a major factor...'. The large number of NYO alumni in Canadian orchestras, Mr. Potvin declared, 'testifies to the eminently effective and sustained work of this admirable organization.'

NYO students are awarded a full scholarship up to a value of $6,000 which covers all the summer's expenses, including intensive study with the international faculty.

OPP

HORSE ACCIDENT. On Sept. 1 at approximately 6 PM at the Marmora Fair, during the Horse Drawing Contest, 2 Belgian Horses belonging to Clifford Manion of Peterborough broke loose. The horses ran into a crowd of persons injuring 5 people. One horse climbed onto a car, smashing the windshield, and fell down. Injured as a result were: Christopher Trumble of RR1 Gilmour, Aylmer Chisolm of RR1 Gilmour, Harold Stiles of Marmora, Alvin Cornelius of Trent River and Douglas Waite of Belleville. Waite and Cornelius were both taken to Belleville General Hospital for treatment.

Canada's NYO has been in operation since 1960. Its graduates can be found in many of the great orchestras of the world as well as forming the vast majority of young Canadians hired to fill professional positions in this country's orchestras.

Audition applications must be submitted by October 15, and are available, with details from the National Youth Orchestra of Canada, 76 Charles Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5S, 1K8; telephone (416) 922-5031.

As a result of ever-improving private instruction in many parts of Canada, an increasing number of musicians qualify for the NYO. Funding levels limit the number that can be accepted to 100.

Where applicants are of equal merit, often for different musical reasons, consideration is given to their development and talent in relation to other orchestral training in their area, and their potential for becoming professional orchestral musicians. The sole criterion for participation in the orchestra remains musical ability; no academic requirements exist.

Humane Society. 'If the animal is abandoned it is kept no more than one week before it is put up for adoption.'

In cases where the owner is present during the investigation, Inspector Cleaver says he tries to find an explanation for the complaint. He says, 'A majority of complaints are due to ignorance by neighbors more than anything else.' For example, he says someone might think that an animal is abandoned when in reality the owner works during the day but returns late at night.

Inspector Cleaver reminds us, 'On a hot day do not leave an animal in a car for a long period of time without fresh air, shade and water. If you are going away arrange for the proper care of your pet. And finally, there is no harm in leaving your dog outside (especially in winter) provided that you have adequate shelter and water for the dog.'

OIL TECH

Grand Opening

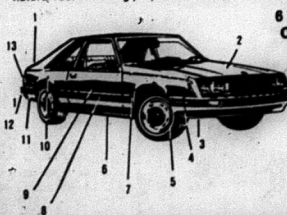

BELLEVILLE LOCATION

We have moved our Belleville shop to 68 Dundas St. West. Basically Oil Tech is a specialized oil based rust control formula annually applied, technologically designed and manufactured to control rust in motor vehicles, whether they be used, new or antique.

OPENING SPECIAL (Sept. Only)
$59.95 ...no drilling charge.
+ tax Reg. $10.00

What is the principle behind OIL TECH?

Mechanics and bodymen have known for years that oil in itself has certain rust controlling properties. However, oil based products are designed for specific purposes, and certain problems arise when they are used for a purpose other than that for which they were designed, such as dealing with moisture present in weld seams, getting into weld seams, dealing with present rust, etc. Hence OIL TECH was designed to take advantage of the natural rust inhibiting properties of oil, yet eliminate the problems.

COMPETITION FOR THE CROWN - The young ladies that took part in the competitions for Madoc Fair Queen last Thursday; Dawn Wiggins; Debbie Shaw, runner up in this year's selections; Kristi Bjorndahl, reigning Fair Queen; Kate Jones; and Connie Taylor, last year's winner. The judges had a hard time deciding among the four well-prepared contestants and while they made up their minds the audience was entertained by Grant Ketcheson (below) reading some of the hilarious poems of Robert Service.

Beauties?

stacked(?) (Can we say that?). For example, there's a contestant called Little Dolly from Bonarlaw, Penicillin Penny (pictured elsewhere in this publication) hails from Barrie, Hot Pants Cuddy comes from Cooper's Bog, Sexy Olga the Truck Driver's Dream comes from Crowe Lake, Miss(ed) Deer(Dear) Lake comes from Deer Lake or BC and then there's Wally Sawkins from St. Lawrence Slough.

That's not to say that some of Marmora's finest won't also be doing their thing. Look for such fine, upstanding citizens as Tina Talent, Boxcar Bertha, Miss Baby Boomer and Beulah Bigger Bust, all from the village. Add to that Miss White Birch from Marmora Township and you have a star studded lineup that will make the Dukes of Hazard look tame.

Judges for the evening include June Vilneff, Bob Drummond, Betty Danford of Madoc, Barry Wilson of Stirling and Bob Maurer of Marmora. In addition, lighting is supplied by Morrison and McGregor, music is supplied by Dean Moore, flowers come compliments of Diane Cole and Audrey Mantle of Audrey's Flowers. Jon McConnell and Patsy Vilneff may supply the only class you'll see that evening as co-moderators. Mary Lummis does the hairstyling for the pageant and Fashion 220's own Lila Booth applies the makeup that transforms these denizens of Marmora's seedier side into raving maniacs (oops) beauties. Each contestant receives a gift for entering.

Tickets are on sale now but should be purchased early if you want to be sure of getting a seat. This bevy of beauties (we use this term loosely) will really rake them in and roll them at the door (oops), we mean, welcome them in. If you missed prior pageants in Marmora, you may not know how valuable tickets are. Red Skeleton would pay top dollar to see this performance and it will be a mad house if Wally wins again. This is the event of the year (at least for that week) and you won't want to have missed it. So come on, throw off the Beauties lose in bid for midget crown

The Eldorado Beauties lost their bid for the O.R.S.A. Midget Crown but not before putting up a valiant effort.

Down one game in the series, the girls had their backs to the wall in the second game. Playing before a standing-room-only crowd, the Beauties jumped into an early 1-0 lead in the first, when a lead-off walk by Tracy T. resulted in a run when she was singled home by Suzanne.

In the third, Susan S. led off the third inning with a triple and scored on a sacrifice to first by Tracey T. Burgessville went a run up in the third but Eldorado tied this in the bottom of the fourth, when Candy, who had walked, crossed the plate for run number three.

In the fifth, the bats were hot and four runs were scored. Linda singled, Pula H. walked and both scored when Patti doubled with two out. Patti scored on a single by Paula C., who scored on a single by Susan S.

In the sixth, the girls added seven more; Linda, Paula H., walked and were scored on a single by Paula C. Patti walked as did Susan S. led off the third inning with a triple and scored on a sacrifice to first by Tracey T. Burgessville went a run up in the third but Eldorado tied this in the bottom of the fourth, when Candy, who had walked, crossed the plate for run number three.

Final score of the game - 14-6 for the Beauties.

In the second game, which was played almost immediately, the fans were treated to what was probably the best game of softball witnessed this year, disappointing only in the fact that the Beauties dropped a 5-4 decision. Andrea and Linda both scored in the first go into a 2-0 lead. In the top of the third Patti walked and was doubled home by Paula C.

Burgessville went into a 4-3 lead in the bottom of the third, Eldorado came back quickly in the top of the fourth to add two to go into a 5-4 lead.

Runs were scored by Tracey and Andrea. This lead quickly disappeared in the bottom of the fourth when Burgessville scored one.

This is the way the score remained into the bottom of the seventh when Burgessville crossed the plate with the winning run. An excellent game and an excellent effort by the girls. Beauties were finalists in the Midget 'C' Series.

The point to remember here is that the girls had already won the Bantam 'C' crown in their own age classification, a third straight Ontario Championship and to be finalists in the Midget Division is an accomplishment in itself.

The Beauties would like to thank their fans for all their support over the year. A special thanks to the ladies in the ladies league, who graciously gave the girls exhibition games in preparation for their play-offs.

See you next year on the diamond.

Eldorado Squirts fourth in Championship

Eldorado Squirts, wearing the black and gold colors, travelled to Wingham on Saturday, Aug. 31st, to participate in the OASA Squirt Tournament and found themselves into some very competitive ball.

There were 15 players and 32 parents and fans who made the trip and were treated to outstanding softball.

In the opening game, the boys were matched against Norland. Marty Shaw was on the mound for the 'Pros' and pitched an outstanding game, recording 18 strikeouts and four walks. His bid for a no-hitter came in the fifth when the catcher for Norland singled.

In the offense department Eldorado scored four when Charlie walked and Marty singled. These two boys were scored when Pat doubled. Pat scored when he stole home. Troy reached safely on a fielder's choice, and scored on a double by Ian.

Eldorado scored their fifth in the third when a lead-off triple by Trevor turned into a run sacrificed home by Troy.

Game number two matched the team against Claremont and saw the boys battle back from a three-run deficit to tie the score in the fourth, only to lose it in the eighth when Claremont scored three to win the game 7-4.

Mark Graham made two outstanding plays in the field in this game.

Runs were scored by Charlie and Trevor in the third and by Pat and Trevor in the fifth.

Marty again pitched the complete game, recording 12 strikeouts, with three walks and six hits.

With their backs to the wall and needing a victory, the boys met Lucknow and moved into a 6-0 lead before Lucknow got on the scoreboard.

Eldorado added one more in the seventh to make the final score 7-4 for Eldorado.

Scoring for Eldorado were Mark Graham, who singled, and eventually stole second, third and home in the second. In the fourth, Marty singled, advanced to third on Trevor's double and scored on Trevor's double.

Then, in the fifth, with two out, Wesley walked, Charlie doubled, and Marty singled to score Wesley. Both Charlie and Marty scored on Pat's double. Pat scored on Trevor's double to score four.

In the seventh, crossing the plate with his third run of the game, was Marty, who beat out a bunt single and scored on Trevor's double.

Marty was again on the mound for the Pros for six innings, serving up 3 hits, three walks and six strikeouts. Jaimie Morten relieved for one inning.

On Sunday morning the Pros played Tavistock and found themselves on the short end of a 9-3 score. It was too little, too late as the Tavistock crew scored two in the second, two more in the third and five in the fifth.

Eldorado's runs all

MEMORIAMS

HENRY - In loving memory of a dear husband and father,
Herbert, who God called home
September 12, 1982.
God saw you getting tired,
When a cure was not to be.
So He closed His arms around you.
And whispered come to me,
Tired and weary, you made no fuss.
But tried so hard to stay with us.
They say memories are golden.
And no doubt it is true.
But we never wanted memories dear.
We only wanted you.
Lovingly remembered by wife Hilda, and son Louis.

MEMORIAMS

BLACKBURN - In loving of a dear mother, Marguerite, who passed away September 7, 1984.
I have only your memory
dear mother.
To remember my whole life
And the sweetness will linger forever.
As I treasure the image of you.
I miss you very very much,
and love you always Mom.
Sadly missed by daughter Nancy and granddaughter Angela.

FORBES - In loving memory of my dear husband, Ray,
who passed away September 11, 1982.
The rolling streams of life flows on.
But still the vacant chair, Recalls the love; the voice, and smile.
Of one who once sat here.
Sadly missed and always remembered by wife Ila.

GREENHALGH - In loving memory of a dear brother,
Richard (Ricky) who passed away on September 15, 1983.
We often sit and think of him.
When we are all alone.
For memory is the only thing.
That grief can call its own.
Always remembered by brothers, Bryan, Paul, Eldon, Jimmy and Garry.

GREENHALGH - In loving memory of a dear son,
Richard (Ricky) who passed away on September 15, 1983.
What we would give to clasp
his hand,
His happy face to see.
To hear his voice and see his smile.
That meant so much to us.
Lovingly remembered by Mom and Dad.

HILL - In loving memory of a dear friend, Doris, who passed away on September 13, 1984.
Memories are like threads of gold.
They never tarnish or grow old.
Ever remembered, Bob and Joyce.

HILL - In loving memory of a dear mother and grand mother, Doris, who passed away on September 13, 1984.
Oft and oft our thoughts do wander.
To the grave not far away.
Where we laid our dear mother.
Just a year ago today.
Lovingly remembered by Boyd, Rita and boys.

HILL - In loving memory of a dear grandmother, Doris,
who passed away on
September 13, 1984.
The deaths of sorrow we cannot tell.
Of the loss of one we loved so well.
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
Lovingly remembered by Patrick and Pascal.

HILL - In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Doris,
who passed away on
September 13, 1984.
In tears we saw you sinking,
Our hearts were almost broken.
You fought so hard to stay,
But when we saw you sleeping.
So peacefully free from pain.
We could not wish you back,
To suffer that again.
Lovingly remembered by
Percy, David, Ann, Boyd,
Phil, Nancy and families.

GREENHALGH - In loving
memory of a dear brother,
Richard (Ricky) who passed
away on September 15, 1983.
We often think of days gone by.
When we were all together.
A shadow over our lives has cast.
Our loved one's gone
forever.
Ever remembered by sisters
Jane and Tammy.

If the Shoe Fits
by Ralph Heron Manager Fit For A King

You know, I'd sure hate to have been a jester back in the Medieval days. This way, you could call you in to entertain him, and if you failed to make him laugh, he'd have your head (Which would probably happen to me, with some of the jokes I tell.)

Anyway, wonder what he'd do to the cook if the food was bad? Or (shudder) to the cobbler if the shoes didn't fit.

Now that's where I believe we could keep our heads. We have kings come into our store everyday (you) All our shoes are fit and fitted for a king, without the king's wealth. Even the king's cobbler wouldn't try any harder than we do to give you a good fit, though he had more to lose, so to speak. Give us a try.

Maud Carrol of Madoc and Flaud Richardson of Toronto, identical twins at 89 years of age. Born on September 15th 1896, in Methuen Township, the two have lived apart most of their lives, getting together only for special occasions like the birthday party held in Madoc on Sunday. Below is a family portrait with the two girls taken in 1905, when they were nine years old.

Identical twins celebrate 89th

It was Happy 89th for identical twins Maud and Flaud, born Washburn, on September 15th, 1896.

Maud married the late Frank Carrol in 1915, raised a family of 11 children in Methuen, and then lived in Gilmour for 42 years. She now lives on St. Lawrence St. West in Madoc.

Flaud married the late Delbert Richardson in 1920, raised a family of 6 children on a farm in Alton where she lived for 19 years. She has spent the rest of her life in Toronto.

The twins now have countless grandchildren, great, and great, great grandchildren.

The double 89th birthday party was held at Maud's home in Madoc on Sunday with a good representation of their families by their sides.

What did identical twins do in the first decade of this century? 'Oh, we had lots of fun,' chuckles Flaud. 'Our mother put different coloured ribbons in our hair so the schoolteacher could tell us apart...but after a couple of weeks we switched them.'

'We could come back from the dances with different boyfriends, too!'

Moms & Tots at library

The 'Moms and Tots' Program will be starting again this year at the Madoc Public Library, reports Librarian Rita Sporing.

The program, which was very successful last year, is for pre-school children accompanied by their mothers. The activities will be supervised by Assistant Librarian Irene Newland, with the mothers helping out or running some parts themselves.

Activities such as games (Ring Around the Rosie, The Farmer in the Dell), short films and arts

Madoc Village Reeve Terry Pigden expressed his concern recently about the establishment of a new 'Community Resource Centre' being suggested by some area social workers. The new centre would essentially be a central clearing house for all social services in the Central Hastings area, combining such organizations as the Health Unit, Adult Protection Service Workers, Childrens Mental Health, Legal Aid and Big Brothers and Sisters under one roof.

Interviewed last week by The Review, Pigden's chief question about the new idea is whether it is 'really necessary' in light of the financial pressures already placed on Hastings County and the Municipalities' for Social Services funding.

'Is this service being proposed because people really need it?' he asked. 'I think that most people here already know where the social services are.'

The Ministry of Community and Social Services, in conjunction with social services organizations in the Central Hastings area, plan to hold an information meeting in Madoc on October 3rd to discuss the idea. Reeve Pigden explained that he is not clear at this point on what the social services groups have in mind, and that he looks forward to being informed.

'It will be very interesting to see what the plans are,' he said. 'I would like to see more employment in the area but is this program really necessary?'

Recently, one of the organizations proposing the new centre, the Centre Hastings Support Network, appeared before the Madoc Council seeking funds for incorporation of their Social Services Network. They received a limited reception. 'We're not too enthusiastic,' said Pigden. 'I wasn't impressed by the presentation to council by the group.'

A spokesperson for the Centre Hastings Support Network explained to The Review that their appearance before council has nothing directly to do with the proposed Community Resource Centre. The group was seeking assistance only to cover legal expenses incurred to incorporate the organization.

The Support Network is an organization of some area social services providers and community volunteers who are working to enhance social services in the Central Hastings area, according to the Network spokesperson. The members work together on a volunteer basis, and were not asking for program funding.

Huge crowds expected

Members of the Stirling and District Business Association got an idea of what to expect next year at a presentation given by the International Plowing Match Publicity Committee last Wednesday evening.

'By mid-January you will begin to see a definite increase in traffic,' said Bill Sutherland, Co-Chairman of the Committee. There are expected to be approximately 600 exhibits in the Tented City, run by two to three times as many personnel. Some of these people will be coming to Stirling early in the year to check out local facilities and the site of the plowing match.

They will spend in the neighbourhood of $1 million on the 100 acre site alone, Sutherland told the Association. 'It is no longer just a plowing match,' he said, 'it's a farm show. It's a Hastings County Show, our opportunity to show off Hastings County.'

'There won't be a business in Stirling that won't be affected,' Sutherland went on. 'There will be a lot of traffic all summer long.'

Statistics were compiled in a poll taken at last year's match which showed, among other things, that visitors spent $2,300,000 during the match. Since 80% of the visitors came from within 100 miles of the event, the Publicity Committee is concentrating its efforts from Toronto to Ottawa and in upper New York State.

The fact that only a small percentage of the visitors come to actually watch the plowing events was stressed by Sutherland. Most of them come to see the exhibits, entertainment and to visit a new part of the province. There will be two ladies' programs running all day every day, and local tourist attractions, shopping areas and towns will be very busy.

Along with the Tented City and Plowing Match areas on the Clayvale and Richland Farms site there will be 300 acres of parking space for the National team selection

Hastings tries for bike race

There is a chance that Stirling may host a National Bicycling Team Selection Race in 1986, if all goes well for John Hastings of the Central Ontario Racing Cycle Club.

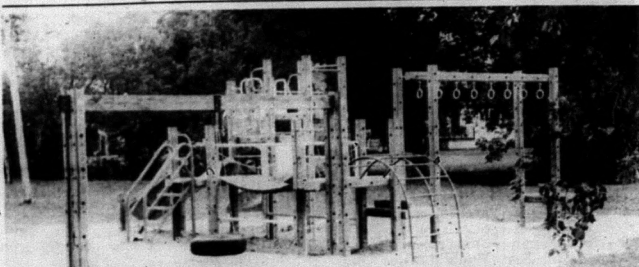

The local body will be making presentations to the Ontario Cycling Association and the Canadian Cycling Association in the next few weeks, hoping for a favourable decision by November.

A National Team selection race would attract the top bicycle racers in the country, as well as a considerable number of enthusiasts and spectators.

Hastings is extremely pleased with the event held in August, in spite of the heavy rains. The bicyclists and officials of the racing associations 'liked the course and the way it was managed. They were extremely pleased that the community and the local police co-operated so well with the event.'

'It was a very receptive situation,' Hastings said. 'And the riders themselves were delighted.'

NEW PLAYGROUND is all finished in Thompson Park on St. Lawrence St. East. The new equipment was purchased and installed by Paris Playground Equipment, of Paris.

Ont. for about $8,000. Madoc Reeve Terry Pigenen hopes to see improved gardens and picnic tables in the park soon.

and crafts are very popular with the children, and the mothers get a chance to meet each other.

'The mothers have fun, it's a good outing for everybody,' says Sporing. 'It's also an opportunity to take out library books, as well.'

The Program will be starting on Friday, Oct. 4th from 10:30 to 11:30 AM and will run every Friday when schools are in session.

expected 25,000 cars arriving per day and 400 trailer camping places. Match officials are also encouraging tour bus companies to plan trips to the match. Needless to say there will be times when traffic on area roads will be very heavy.

To assist with traffic and security the area can expect 100-125 police officers to be involved during the match.

To accommodate exhibitors Sutherland is urging anyone with rooms to spare to open them as 'bed and breakfast' accommodations. 'Hotels and motels will be booked solid as far away as Peterborough,' he said.

The Publicity Committee will be sending representatives to all agricultural events from now on to publicize the Stirling plowing match, and 'media days' will be held for promotion as the September date approaches.

Sutherland praised the other local municipalities for their enthusiastic response. 'We're getting excellent support from Belleville and Trenton,' he said, 'and also from

Carswell honored

The Village of Madoc has officially honoured former councillor Clifford J. 'Buck' Carswell by proclaiming that Fire Department Truck No. 1 be marked and licenced with his name.

Carswell, who passed away on September 4th, devoted a great deal of his time to the Madoc Fire Department and had been driving the truck for countless years.

The new by-law passed is as follows: Whereas Councillor Clifford J. Carswell passed away on September 4, 1985;

And Whereas Councillor Carswell contributed greatly to the Municipal operation and was a well known and highly regarded individual in this community and surrounding area;

And Whereas Clifford J. (Buck) Carswell was a member of the Madoc Volunteer Fire Department for 40 years;

Therefore the Council for the Corporation of the Village of Madoc enacts the following:

In honour of the late Clifford J. Carswell, this by-law hereby assigns the insignia C.J. BUCK as the official designation for the Madoc Village Fire Department Truck No. 1 and orders the appropriate licensing of the same.

This by-law is hereby read three times and passed this 4th day of September 1985.

The Committee Co-Chairman urged representatives of the Business Association to attend this year's match near St. Thomas to gather ideas and information on what to expect in Stirling next year.

Aided by Jack Dunham, Sutherland showed the group a slide presentation of last year's plowing event.

'We now have one year, 12 months, to go,' Sutherland told the local business people, 'and soon we will be counting the days. There is a lot to be done between now and then.'

Queensboro W.I. report

Mrs. John Bagshaw was acting hostess for the September meeting of the Queensborough branch of the W.I. which was held in the hall on Wednesday evening, September 11.

Mrs. Robert McNeil, President, was in charge of the meeting which she opened in the usual way, singing O'Canada, the Ode and Mary Stewart Collect.

The roll call, 'Bring an antique kitchen or farm implement', was well answered. There were 18 members and three visitors.

There was a short business discussion. We are invited to a come and go tea at Wellman's WI later.

It was decided to send Mrs. Ken Cassidy as a delegate to the Area Convention in Belleville on October 9.

It was also decided to send a donation to Heritage House to help with their repairs. Plans were made to canvas for CNIB again this year.

Mrs. David Gordon and Mrs. Wm. Cassidy, Agriculture and Canadian Industries Conveners, were in charge of the program.

Mrs. Gordon read the motto, which had been prepared by Mrs. A. Sutton on 'Our proud beginnings. Our heritage of yesterday'.

A film was then shown on our heritage, starting in the beginning, about 1784, and showing different farms in Ontario which have remained in the same family for 200 years. This was a very interesting film.

We next had a contest on making up words on the word 'heritage'. This was won by Mrs. Arthur Holmes. A contest of guessing the amount of candies in a jar was won by Mrs. Lynn.

Mrs. Allan Ramsay auctioneered a small sale of violets which had been donated by Mrs. Lynn.

The meeting was then closed with The Queen and lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants, and a social time was enjoyed by all.

Happy Wanderers

BY VIOLA

The Happy Wanderers Senior Citizens Club 473 have returned again for their meeting held Sept. 11th in the Church Hall at 1:30.

There were 45 members and 2 visitors present. The President Mrs. Goldie Holmes opened the meeting with a poem 'What is Love'. O Canada was sung with John Muir at the piano, followed by a prayer.

Goldie welcomed all present. There are 76 members on the roll. The minutes were read by the Secretary, Bernice Clarke. The Treasurer's report was read by Maude Deline. There were 17 of our members at the Zone 18 meeting held at Thurlow.

The birthday song was sung for the members who had a birthday in July, August and September. An anniversary song was sung for Clara and Clarence Stevenson's 40th anniversary. Clara thanked the club for a card received after she broke her wrist.

The correspondence was read by Hilda Anderson. We have been invited to a Tea and Bazaar on October 5th from 1:30 to 4:30 at Thurlow Community Centre.

WANNAMAKER

A letter was received from the U.S.C.O. The Bus Report was given by Wilfred Forestell. The Colour Tour will be October 7th, going by Bancroft, Algonquin Park, Canoe Lake Lodge for dinner, then on to Peterborough and then home. The cost will be $31. We leave the apartments at 7:45 and 8 o'clock at the church.

Laura Hannah gave a report of the Convention. The program was conducted by Evelyn Rollins. Irene Gordon read a poem, 'Smile'. Emma Henderson read 'To Have a Little Patience'. John and Gladys Muir favoured us with Gladys singing a 'Love Song' with John at the piano for his birthday. This was much enjoyed by all.

George Alore read 'Endless Life'. Ruby Paraniuk read 'Have You Seen the Mountain'. Evelyn asked Eileen Yzereef to play the guitar and sing 'The Gambler' and 'Ontario' with members clapping for the chorus. Bernice Clarke had some jokes.

The door prize was won by Clarence Stevenson and the meeting closed with God Save the Queen.

Madoc OPP weekly report

During the week of September 1-7, 1985, officers of the Madoc detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated general occurrences and three traffic accidents. These occurrences included four impaired drivers, 11 liquor licence act violations and four 12-hour suspensions. The OPP Program 'Strict is Fair' continues province-wide with intentions of reducing personal injury and fatal motor vehicle accidents.

ACCIDENTS:
On Wednesday, September 4, 1985, at approximately 2:30 p.m., Edwin Holly of Huntingdon Twp. was travelling east on the 5th Concession Road, half a km. east of Highway 62. His vehicle left the roadway, entered the south ditch and struck a culvert. Holly received minor injuries. The vehicle received $2000 damage. Holly was charged with Careless Driving.

GENERAL OCCURRENCES:
On Monday, Sept. 2, 1985, Gord Johnson of Madoc, Ontario, reported the theft of his 9-1/2 hp. Johnson outboard motor from his boat at his cottage on the Moira Lake. On Tuesday, Sept. 3, 1985, three business premises in Madoc were broken into. The Canadian Tire Store had an east garage window broken and an electric drill was stolen. The Hair Stop had the side door kicked in on St. Lawrence Street. Nothing was reported stolen.

Nickle's Jewellery Store was entered and a large quantity of jewellery was stolen. On Saturday, Sept. 7, 1985, Glenn Locke of Madoc, Ontario, reported the theft of his 1982 Olds from the parking lot of Madoc Fire Dept. The vehicle was recovered later the same day on County Road 11.

Grand Opening
We have moved our Belleville shop to

What is the principle behind OIL TECH?

Mechanics and bodymen have known for years that oil in itself has certain rust controlling properties. However, oil based products are designed for specific purposes, and certain problems arise when they are used for a purpose other than that for which they were designed, such as dealing with moisture present in weld seams, getting into weld seams, dealing with present rust, etc. Hence OIL TECH was designed to take advantage of the natural rust inhibiting properties of oil, yet eliminate the problems.

Managing your money

by Harry L. Mardon
The recent collapse of the Edmonton-based Canadian Commercial Bank is a harsh reminder of that old Latin axiom: caveat emptor (let the buyer beware).

People and organizations who deposited money in the failed bank don't have much to worry about: The federal government has promised they will be fully recompensed, even if their bank deposits exceeded the $50,000-per-account guarantee under the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation (CDIC) program.

The real losers will be those individuals and groups who were shareholders of the bank. It appears that their shares are now worthless. There's no insurance program to reimburse shareholders for any loss suffered on an investment.

This incident drives home forcibly the point that when you buy shares of a company you do so at your own risk.

An 84-year-old Winnipeg man learned this lesson in a financially painful way when the Canadian Commercial Bank collapsed. Early last year, he cashed in $30,000 worth of Canada Savings Bonds, his life savings, and used $25,000 of it to buy shares of the bank. He claims he did this only on the advice of a stockbroker. According to the man, he was told that because of tax credits available on the bank stock issue, his investment would generate an 18 per cent rate of return. Now, of course, he has zilch return and has lost his $25,000 original investment. He cannot even claim any of his loss as a capital loss when he makes out his 1985 income tax return. Under the terms of the new federal budget, the best he can do is add his

$25,000 capital loss to his lifetime capital gains tax exemption of $50,000. That means he'd be entitled to a $25,000 exemption, for what? (Nothing, if it is true he only has $5,000 left from his life savings and has no other major assets.)

The moral of this story is that you should protect your capital by diversifying your investments. You can do this either directly, through building your own portfolio of company stocks, or through an investment fund which provides a diversified portfolio of shares. There is safety in numbers.

This rule is especially important for elderly persons. Once you reach retirement age, you should seek the advice of a professional financial planner, in order to protect the value of your accumulated wealth - whatever the amount. The less you have, the greater the need to minimize the risk exposure of your money.

CHSS Martial Arts Club News

BY BOB WALTHER

Profound in its applications, subtle in its principles, martial arts knowledge seems to reach beyond what anyone can accomplish in one lifetime. Perhaps it's true of anything, but in martial arts you sense it physically. The struggle to achieve is always internal; your toughest opponent after all, can be only yourself. The 'fight', therefore, if we must refer to fighting, is with yourself, for control, for balance of mind and body, for composure ultimately.

In martial arts, the first sense of balance, taught to beginners, is of course to avoid stumbling, the second, of a higher quality, is the balance of thought and action. The act of bowing in ('rei') in the traditional training hall ('Dojo') epitomizes this approach. There are two bowing postures, both extremely important: the 'ritsu rei', a standing bow, performed when entering and leaving a training hall, or when bowing to a fellow student or to an instructor, and the 'za rei', performed at the beginning and the end of each class, or when doing techniques low on the floor. The back is erect, the hands, breath, eyes remain steadily under control, either when standing or when kneeling.

was marked by an unruffled composure. Faced with the prospect of certain death following defeat, generals ordered the chaos about them tidily, as you would set about organizing a hotel room on first (active alert activity), not altogether 'ying' (the passive side of life).

The accompanying picture illustrates an example of a Karate ready position, this time standing erect. The legs are balanced, the fists are at the ready, the spinal column must be straight, forming a line with the nape of the neck. The chin is up with the eyes open and alert.

Presbyterian women's news

The September meeting of the PCW was held at the home of Ann Rodgers on the 10th. Our president, Lily Long, opened the meeting with the hymn 'This Is My Father's World', followed by the Lord's Prayer.

The minutes of the last meeting were read with 17 ladies and one visitor answering to the word, creation. Many birthdays from July, August and September were celebrated.

Teresa Bennett, our guest, presented a very interesting and comprehensive talk on her visit to the United Nations, sponsored by the IOOF and Rebecas. She enhanced her talk with slides and a display of gifts she had brought home.

The group started at Ottawa, seeing the Peace Tower, Eternal Flame, Changing of the Guard, Government House and Federal Building. Then on to Albany, the capital city of New York State and then on to New York City. Here, at the United Nations, they saw the Secretariat, General Assembly, security officer area, monuments from every country to enhance the grounds. While in New York, they toured the Empire State Building, China Town, National Post Office and had a boat tour.

They then went on to Philadelphia and then to Washington, visiting Arlington Cemetery, Eternal Flame, Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Capital Building and the White House.

Then onto Pennsylvania, Niagara Falls and home. You must see this presentation to understand how much has been omitted on this article.

Elaine Spencer took over the devotions, opening with the hymn, 'God Who Made The Earth', and then prayers. Using creativity as her theme, she had several ladies read the story of the creation from Genesis.

God made the Earth over a progression of time and man in his own image. He put man in charge of his creation and gave him woman as a companion. We are all created by God and each show our creativity in our own individual way.

Then with scissors and a piece of paper, we made snowflakes. Cont'd on page 12

Arriving in BellevilleRide for peace

Doug Mohr, of Kitchener-Waterloo, has undertaken a long haul. He is bicycling across Canada, from Vancouver to Nova Scotia, in a fund-raising project. All funds contributed will be used to pay for TV and radio publicity, to educate and inform the public about the nuclear arms issues.

Doug will be arriving in Belleville on the evening of Tuesday, Sept. 17, at 8 p.m. Friends and supporters, and interested or concerned members of the public are invited to meet him at 8 p.m. in the parking lot of Towers, in Belleville, on bicycles or in vehicles, to escort him to Belleville City Hall. (There will, we hope, be a police escort on the route through the city.) He will be met at the City Hall by Mayor George Zegouras or his Deputy, who will speak a few words of welcome, and Janice Brown of Thomasburg will welcome him in the name of the Quinte area peace movement.

Doug will be spending the night in Belleville before resuming his Ride For Peace on Wednesday morning.

This was followed by a delicious lunch smothered by Coca Eggleton and Edna Shaw.

Eagles tourney winners

In a tournament that had a little bit of everything, the Factory Eagles won the Men's League Championship. The Factory won their three games to take the championship with victories over O'Hara's by a 9-3 score, another 9-3 victory over Moore's Corners, and in the 'A' Championship game a 9-2 victory over, also previously undefeated, Tannery.

There were 199 men who participated in the 15 games necessary to determine the 'A' and 'B' champs. There was a no-hitter pitched as well as a grand slam home run. Both were in the same game and both by the same individual. Keith Porelain, pitcher for Gilmour, pitched a no-hitter against O'Hara's as well as connecting for a grand slam.

Fans saw 183 singles, 43 doubles and 27 triples as well as seven other home runs, two by Dale Wood of Bannockburn and one each by Mike Rollins of Cooper, Larry Rollins, Cooper, Randy Foster and Doug Rake, Bannockburn.

We had sunny weather on Saturday with damp outfield conditions; these conditions worsened on Sunday with our rain delay at noon. These field conditions resulted in some difficult to describe plays; such as the Walter's Crawl, the Courneya Flip and the Johnson Slide. Anyone who saw these plays realize that generally the play was made and an out made, all in the name of the game.

In the Factory's opening victory over O'Hara's John Curtis tripled, as did Gary Cassibo. John led the tournament with triples with three. With doubles in the game were Dale Provost, Charlie Bud and Gary Cassibo. Rob Boyle and Darrell Peters shared mound duties for the Eagles, while Dave Fleming went the distance for the losers.

There was also a double play executed by the Factory in the seventh.

In their second 9-3 victory, John Curtis, Joe Vesina and Gary Hayes had triples for the Eagles. Sam Lewis had a triple for Moore's Corners. Dale Provost, Darrell Peters, Gary Hayes and Darren Morrison doubled. Darrell Peters pitched a five-hitter for the Eagles, while Allan Walker and Earl Alexander shared mound chores for Moore's.

In the 'A' final game, another nine runs crossed the plate for the Eagles, while holding Tannery to two. Darrell again pitched a strong game, with only six hits. Father-and-son team of Brennan and Jack Devolin hailed for Tannery. John Curtis recorded another triple, while doubles went to Gary Cassibo and Steven Whyte.

Dean Harris had a double for Tannery.

In Tannery's opening game they posted a 6-3 decision over the Eldors Laurie Trotter and Dave Burnside tripled for Tannery, while Cyril Shaw and Al Curtis doubled for the Eldors. Brian Plumbe went the distance for the losers' with a six-hit, 10 strike-out performance. Jack Devolin hailed a five-hitter for the winners.

Tannery handed Cooper an 8-0 loss in their second game. Jack pitched a three-hitter in this decision. Duane Foley and Brennan Devolin had triples. Lynn Reid had a double.

After their loss to the Factory, Tannery dropped down to compete for the 'B' championship. In this game both teams raked up a lot of runs, but Tannery came out ahead of a 16-10 decision. Lynne Reid and Brennan Devolin tripled, while Dean Harris, Laurie Trotter and Turk McCann had doubles. For the Eldors Cyril Shaw and Lloyd Holmes tripled, while Rae Robinson and Lloyd Holmes doubled. Lloyd led the tournament in doubles with three.

The Eldors were 'B' runners-up playing five games to get this distinction. Three of these were on Sunday afternoon. In their opening game they defeated Bannockburn Devils 7-3. Brian Plumbe had twelve strike-

Ask your Pharmacist

With alcohol so prevalent in modern society, it's not surprising that one of the most common questions posed to pharmacists and physicians is, "Can I drink alcohol while taking this medication?" It is possibly the most important question you could ask.

Alcohol is a drug, and like prescription and non-prescription medications, alcohol alters the body's delicate chemical balance. Prescribed and non-prescribed drugs try to balance the body's chemical scales in favor of good health. However, when used in conjunction with some drugs, alcohol can drastically tip the scales the other way.

When both alcohol and another chemical are in your system, the alcohol may cause your body to absorb medication too rapidly. The result could be a mild overdose and even a mild one can be dangerous, especially for people with heart ailments or high blood pressure.

When it comes to alcohol and medication, you can't be too careful. Obtain the expert advice of your pharmacist or physician BEFORE you add alcohol to your system.

outs in this decision. There were two double plays executed, one by each team and both in the first inning.

After dropping game two to Tannery, they defeated Moore's Corners 8-4 in a rain delayed game. Lloyd Holmes scored three runs in the victory.

And before they could cool off, they played Cooper 'back-to-back' and handed them an 11-4 decision, all of Cooper's runs coming in the fifth inning. Zane Plumbe recorded a triple and Nolan Peters a double. Cooper had only three hits with Brian Rollins' triple, Larry Ken Gould's single. And in the fifth game, they had a 16-10 loss to Tannery.

In other games played, Moore's Corners defeated Millbridge 8-6. Five of these runs were scored in the bottom of the sixth. Earl Alexander had 14 strike-outs in seven innings.

In Game IV, Cooper defeated Gilmour 6-4 in a game which required two extra innings to complete. Keith Porelain chalked up up 16 strike-outs in the losing cause. In Game VI, Bannockburn eliminated Millbridge from further play with a 21-8 decision. Then Gilmour defeated O'Hara's 9-1 in the tournament's no-hitter game. Only run came as a result of walk combined with an over-throw at second.

Bannockburn, playing the role of spoilers, also eliminated Gilmour from further play, with a 12-8 decision. Doug Lake hit a three-run home run in the top of the seventh to put the boys into the driver's seat in a very close game.

In the opening game on Sunday, Bannockburn ran out of steam and dropped an 8-6 decision to Moore's Corners. Gord Newman and Bob Marshall had triples in the losing cause.

Moore's Corners then dropped their game to the Eldors.

Again, Factory Eagles 'A' Champs defeating Tannery 9-2, and Tannery 'B' Champs defeating the Eldors 16-10.

The end of a very successful year and a look ahead to next season. Don't forget the league ball dance at the Kiwanis Centre on October 19th. See you there.

HERMAN - In loving memory of Sandy, who died September 22nd, 1974.
No farewells were spoken. You never said goodbye. We were gone before I knew it. And only God knows why. So treasure him Lord in your garden of remembrance. For when on earth he was the best. I often think of days gone by. When we were all together. The family chain is broken now. But our memories will live forever. To those you may be forgotten. To others a part of the past. But to me who loved and lost you. Your memory will always last. I loved you in a special way. And I could have one lifetime wish. One dream that could come true. I pray to God with all my heart. For yesterday and today. Always remembered Mom.

Education Is Every Child's Right!

1985 is a landmark year for special education in Ontario. As of September 1, all students with special needs have the right to an education program appropriate to their individual needs and abilities - a big step forward for our children, for our school boards, for our teachers, and for all those who believe in equality of educational opportunity.

During the last five years, Ontario school boards, teacher education institutions, teachers, and administrators have worked together to make this goal a reality.

Contact your local school board to find out about special education programs and services available in your area.

Education is every child's right, and everyone's responsibility.

'LEST WE FORGET' - A memorial wreath is placed at the base of the new cairn at Madoc Township School by Andrea Guernsey. School students, members of the Royal Canadian Legion and other officials stood by as the cairn was dedicated at an impressive Sunday afternoon ceremony.

Memorial at township school

Cairn dedicated

'To the memory of Canada's Veterans and also those who follow them in their task of building future peace'

Those words set the scene for the dedication of the cairn at Madoc Township Public School on Sunday afternoon. The ceremonies culminated the dreams of School Principal Art Gough and his committee of volunteers who have been working diligently to see the memorial constructed.

Well over 100 members of various branches of the Royal Canadian Legion, a bagpipe band, Members of Parliament, School Board Officials and scores of guests and students attended the impressive affair.

The idea behind the cairn stemmed from the fact that Remembrance Day is no longer a school holiday. Gough felt that a focal point was needed for the students when Remembrance Day ceremonies were observed at the school. He took his idea to members of the public and formed a committee of people who concurred with his feelings.

The committee consisted of Gough, Mary Pigden, a member of the Madoc Township Council (chairperson); Gary Gurney, a parent and Korean War veteran and Fred Ryan of Loyalist College, a World War II veteran.

The committee received the blessing of the Hastings County Board of Education and went to work. Funds for the cairn's construction were raised locally but much of the material and labour was donated. The most interesting aspect of the new cairn is that the rocks which make it were brought to the school by the children. 'At one point we had from 160 to 200 large rocks sitting in the hall of the school,' says Gough. A diagram is being prepared which will show the location of the individual rocks submitted by the students.

There area also stones from Normandy and Dieppe and the brass plaque fronting the monument was donated by the Madoc Branch of The Royal Canadian Legion.

Inside the cairn is a time capsule containing class photos, some student's notes and a tape recording with messages for the students of 100 years in the future.

The cairn, which is about four feet square at the base and about ten feet high was designed by Bill Houston, a Tweed engineer. The foundation was built by Bob Reid, his son Frank and Alan Franks. The stonework itself, using the rocks from the children's home properties was built by stonemason Leon Clement.

Ceremony colourful but decorous

The weather was unusually warm for the time of year but the sun managed to shine as the colours were marched in by a large contingent of area Legions to the pipes and drums of The Duke of Edinburgh Unit Ontario Pipe Band with Pipe Major of the Day, Dougal McCamley in charge.

With the colour bearers at ease, the audience was welcomed by Principal Gough. Mary Pigden explained the history and significance of the cairn project, calling up some of its lighter aspects: 'Can you imagine a 40 pound child trying to take a 20 pound rock off a school bus?' she asked. In closing she recognized the incentive taken by Gough. 'Mr. Gough, your dream has come true,' she said.

Reverend Colin Reade joined the group in prayer, emphasizing the 'need to strive for peace.'

An address was made on behalf of the veterans by John Hatt and Allen Ketcheson spoke on behalf of MPP Jim Pollock who was unable to attend. He noted that 5 generations of

Campagnolo speaks on peace

At the first of a series of planned public events, highlighting the views of prominent Canadian political figures on Canada's role in the search for world peace, Iona Campagnolo, President of the Liberal Party of Canada, spoke to a dinner audience of 120 people in Belleville recently, organized by the Quinte Branch of Operation Dismantle (note: the event took place on Monday, Sept. 9, at the Ramada Inn).

Mrs. Campagnolo stressed the need for public education about the threat of nuclear war saying 'given the information, Canadian people will make the right decision, but far too often we don't get the right information.' Mrs. Campagnolo also praised Prime Minister Brian Mulroney's rejection of the American 'Star Wars' proposal, saying 'the decision retarded by a minute or two the relentless sweepband' of the threat of nuclear war.

Agreeing that the importance of ending the nuclear arms race transcends the differences of partisan politics, Mrs. Campagnolo praised the all-party representation at the dinner. Other guests of honor included Donna O'Neil, representing her husband Hugh O'Neil, Ontario's Minister of Industry, Trade and Technology. Rob

MRS. HERB WOOD - mother of Raymond and Jack Wood stands between the gate posts erected in her son's memory at the Eldorado Ball Park.

Gate posts donated

A new set of brick gate posts have recently been installed at the Eldorado Ball Park as a memorial to Raymond and Jack Wood.

The project was commissioned by the Wood family of Bannockburn and time and materials for the posts were donated by Reg Hannah, Allan Franks, Karen and Cyril Shaw and Tom Bruce. Memorial plaques will be installed on the two square brick pillars next spring.

Raymond Wood was an avid ball player who lost his life in an accident while working with Ontario Hydro ten years ago. Jack Wood died this summer. He was an enthusiastic baseball supporter, familiar to everyone at the diamond. Jack was a great fan of the 'Beauties' team and his wish that the team have a new set of uniforms will be fulfilled by the Woods family next season.

Scores of flag bearers from the Royal Canadian Legion formed the colour party at the cairn dedication ceremony. For some it must have been an ordeal bravely tolerated as a hot sun beat down on the proceedings.

Madoc Township School Principal Art Gough, originator of the cairn idea prompts youngsters Steve Gordon, Josh Bailey and Lisa Bailey as they relate the origins of rocks brought in to be part of the cairn.

The Duke of Edinburgh Unit Pipe Band plays in the foreground as the colour parties march from the site of the new cairn following the dedication ceremonies. Bright sunshine and a light breeze made the affair a brilliant display of colour and military decorum.

Madoc Township students had attended school at the site of the Madoc Township School and that change to the present centralized system had not been easy.

The rural community never has to change if the people are willing to change their horizons, he said. 'You have an atmosphere in rural Ontario that you don't have in other places.'

Tom Burnside, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Hastings County School Board said that: 'It's events like this that make me even more proud of my Madoc Township background...the cairn will be a focal point for Remembrance Day but it will also be a daily reminder...it is a monument to peace and peace is something that we must preserve. Under the threat of nuclear war that would destroy our world we must pass the responsibility for peace to the younger generation.' He noted that the

With the cairn properly dedicated, area Member of Parliament Bill VanKoughnet spoke briefly on the suitability of the idea of the cairn. 'It will be a lasting tribute and it will remind us of the work we have ahead...it is most fitting that our young people participate... He then introduced Mr. Dan McKenzie, M.P., Parliamentary Secretary to George Hees, Minister of Veteran's Affairs. McKenzie spoke of the devastating losses suffered at the Dieppe conflict and donated some stones from the Dieppe beach to the school. The ceremonies were closed by Art Gough who thanked everyone who attended and particularly the colour party and the band for their perseverance in standing in the hot sun. The colours were marched off and the dedication of Madoc Township School's cairn of remembrance and hope was complete. The cairn was the first of its kind in the 55 schools of the Hastings County School Board system.

Following songs by the quartet 'Just Friends' and a student choir the cairn was unveiled by Cecil McBride and students Lisa Bailey, Steve Gordon and Josh Bailey.

A memorial wreath was laid at the base of the cairn by school pupil Andrea Gurney, the last post was given by trumpeter Brian Sanderson and a lament was piped by Teddi Coe.

The Union Jack is removed from the face of the new cairn, unveiling the monument of remembrance and peace in the future. The brass plaque was donated by the Madoc Branch of the Canadian Legion.

Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Veterans Affairs, Dan McKenzie, donated some stones from the beach at Dieppe to the school in memory of the thousands who died there.

Heroin to be reintroduced for pain

Bill Vankoughnet, MP for Hastings-Frontenac-Lennox and Addington, recently confirmed that certain health goods will be exempt from federal sales tax. Also, that heroin will be reintroduced to alleviate intractable pain that can be associated with malignant disease.

Under the May 23rd budget existing sales tax exemption for health goods such as medicated creams, lotions, shampoos, soaps and bandages were ended. However, the exemption continued to apply to drugs identified under certain schedules to the Food and Drugs

Act and Regulations and the Narcotic Control Act, and to drugs purchased by hospitals.

Post-budget consultations with the Canadian Wholesale Drug Association, the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, the Proprietary Association of Canada and the Canadian Diabetes Association noted that some drugs and supplies used by patients to treat certain life-threatening illnesses such as diabetes, cardiovascular disease and respiratory ailments were not included in the schedules of exempt drugs. These will now qualify for exemption from federal sales tax.

The decision to reintroduce heroin was originally announced last December. Since then consultation with health professionals, provincial governments and others have been held to work out the details.

Heroin will be used only for the relief of severe pain in patients who have not responded to other potent narcotic pain killers. It will not be permitted for the maintenance of addiction of persons dependent on opiates. The drug will only be available for use in hospitals in accordance with standard narcotic distribution guidelines designed to prevent diversion for illicit purposes. All security measures presently applicable to other narcotic drugs will also apply to the distribution and use of heroin.

These two announcements reflect this government's concern and response to what the Canadian people have demonstrated they need," said Bill Vankoughnet, MP.

Fire destroys contents of Huntingdon house

The Huntingdon Township and Madoc Village Fire Departments turned out to a house fire in RR 4 Madoc on Sunday morning.

The alarm was turned in at about 11:00 AM by neighbours, who observed smoke rising from several windows of the white frame house. Owners of the home, Willy and

Linda Bruckmann, were away at the time. Firefighters responded in about seven minutes but the interior of the building was badly damaged by smoke and heat by the time they arrived.

Madoc Village firemen had an opportunity to use a new 'fogging' nozzle, designed to reduce the interior temperature, and according to fireman Larry Carswell, it was used very successfully.

Cause of the smoldering fire was uncertain by press time but officials believe that it started in a living room chesterfield.

Madoc Volunteer Firemen use a new 'fogging' nozzle to clear heat and smoke from the smoldering fire last Sunday morning before suiting up to go inside.

Maple decline

Acid rain contributes to sugar maple decline in Ontario, but more research is needed to determine how significant a factor it is, reveals an interim report prepared by the Ministry of the Environment.

The report, entitled Sugar Maple Decline in Ontario, was released recently by Environment Minister Jim Bradley. It is the product of a one-year study of seven sites in Muskoka and one near Thunder Bay.

The report tentatively concludes that acid rain in the Muskoka area causes an additional stress to sugar maple trees that have also been plagued by the following factors: a severe forest tent caterpillar epidemic in the late 1970s, spring droughts in 1976, 1977 and 1983, root rot, tree age and site management procedures.

The current mysterious decline of sugar maple trees, what scientists refer to as the 'Maple Dieback Syndrome' became evident in 1978 in the Muskoka area. Producers suspected acid rain.

The Maple Syrup Producers of Ontario and the Ministry of Agriculture and Food requested the Environment Ministry to conduct a study to determine the role of acid rain in sugar maple tree dieback.

'My ministry is seeking to define more precisely how acid rain harms our maple syrup producers,' Mr. Bradley said. 'I'm not prepared to stand by idly while acidic pollution undermines the long-term viability

'Unity and strength' mark sovereignty and policies of government

opened for discussions with the United States on co-operation of Arctic waters. These consultations will be held on the basis of full respect for Canadian sovereignty.

Further action involves the immediate increase of surveillance overflights of our Arctic waters by Canadian forces aircraft. Planning has begun for Canadian naval activity in Eastern Arctic waters in 1986. Both these actions will emphasize that Canada is taking our Arctic sovereignty seriously.

In 1970 the then government barred the International Court of Justice from hearing disputes that might arise concerning the jurisdiction, a 100 mile limit, exercised by Canada for prevention of pollution. The Secretary General of the United Nations has recently been notified that we are withdrawing this reservation and recognizing the authority of the World Court in this field. This government is confident that our sovereignty will be upheld by the World Court should it ever be challenged.

Finally, the construction of a polar, class 8 icebreaker will soon begin. The Ministers of Defence and Transport will bring to Cabinet recommendations with regard to the design and construction plans shortly. Though the estimated costs are in the order of $5 billion, Canada is not about to conclude that the Arctic is too expensive. It is a vital and intrinsic part of Canada.

Throughout this government's career we have concentrated on consolidating our national unity and strengthening our economy.

As the Minister of External Affairs said, 'Unity and strength: these are the hallmarks of sovereignty and of the policies of this government.'

Twenty-two years ago the issue of sovereignty was discussed and though policy was proposed, it was never implemented. This government acted to ensure and protect the sovereignty of our nation.

Throughout my Summer Tour many constituents brought their concerns regarding the American ship Polar Sea, that entered Canada's Arctic territory in August, to my attention. The government's action in this matter demonstrates our intention to preserve and maintain Canada's sovereignty.

Ontario Public Library week

age of our public library system in Ontario,' says the Honourable Lily Munro, Minister of Citizenship and Culture. 'And it's a time for all Ontarians to rediscover the joy and excitement that public libraries bring to all communities.'

It's the first year for Ontario Public Library Week, and according to Grace Buller, manager of the Public Library Service Unit at the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture in Toronto, this year's celebrations are aimed at bringing libraries to people and people to libraries.

Library staff have responded eagerly and enthusiastically to the challenge of Public Library Week. That's evident in the imagination of the programs and events they have planned,' says Mrs. Buller.

To list all of the happenings in libraries during the last week of September would require a small book. But a quick tour around the province will give you a good indication of the kinds of events you're likely to find right around your corner.

At the Atikokan Public Library, staff have planned special events for all ages. A Senior Citizens' Tea will open the week, followed by an open house and a coffee party to honor library volunteers. For the children there will be a puppet show, old photographs and memorabilia tracing the library's history.

The library is also sponsoring a 'Libraries are People Places' Photography Contest for local shutterbugs.

Mr. Corman, the author of several popular children's and young adult novels, will also answer questions for visitors to the many open houses planned during the week.

In Lindsay, public library staff will have local playwright Beth McMaster read from her works and offer advice to budding wordsmiths, or answer questions from interested observers.

Lindsay is also taking its message to the streets with a video program that details local library services. Staff will set up a booth in a local mall to answer questions, and a magical Wizard will enchant the children. Staff have also invited the local Town Council to hold its regular council meeting in the library on Monday evening.

In Niagara-on-the-Lake, the theme of Public Library Week is 'Ideas start at Public Libraries'.

To demonstrate that, members of the prestigious Shaw Festival will show how they use the library facilities to create their world-renowned theatrical productions.

A costume maker, a set designer, a wig designer and an actor will demonstrate how they research and work with the information at the library to re-create life as it was in the 18th and

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

I agree with Kevin Doyle's (Editor of Maclean's Magazine) statement that 'there is no single answer to the question of whether the (Hiroshima, Nagasaki) bombings were right or wrong'. The bombs were dropped, the damage was done. To be charitable, perhaps no one truly was aware of the magnitude of the destruction that they were responsible for unleashing.

If any good has resulted from these bombings, it has been to show us a glimpse of the terrible reality of nuclear war. And remember, those two bombs dropped on Japan were small compared to those available today.

If we cannot learn from our mistakes, we are indeed, doomed. This is not the time to dredge up old hatreds, but to develop tolerance and understanding. And to speak out... We elect our leaders to do our bidding, not the other way around. Burying our heads in the sand will not make the boogymen of nuclear war disappear.

Hiroshima was only the culmination of the precedent set in Berlin, in London, in Dresden, in Coventry. Armies no longer 'have-at' each other. They now direct their destruction at each other's cities. In other words, at the virtually defenceless non-combatants. At you and me and our children.

Better, Hiroshima or Berlin you say? Will you be so smug and self-righteous when it's Calgary or Cold Lake or Toronto or North Bay? Or Trenton?

If we can risk nuclear war, we can risk nuclear disaster.

mament. We can put our energies and dollars into making this planet a better place to live, rather than looking for better ways to destroy it... Yours truly, S. McLean World Without War Conference Committee

Thirty-three laid-off workers will share $34 weeks of work computerizing mineral deposit files, upgrading park facilities and studying tree species in the Tweed, Napanee and Brockville areas. Project costs totaling $303,629 will be shared among the federal and provincial governments and project sponsors.

Some workers will drill test blocks of granite from selected sites in eastern Ontario, Natural Resources Minister Vincent Kerrio said.

'The samples will then be cut and polished into building slabs and blocks for display at trade shows. This project will not only promote the building stone industry in that area, but also employ four unemployed workers as well.'

Another group will completely renovate a comfort station at Sandbanks Provincial Park. Jobs will include adding four new shower stalls, installing facilities for the disabled, replacing vanities, painting and re-roofing.

'Because this type of assistance has allowed so many valuable resource projects to be undertaken by laid-off workers, it has proven to be of great benefit to communities throughout Ontario,' said federal Employment and Immigration Minister Flora MacDonald.

The federal provincial job creation program is jointly funded by Employment and Immigration Canada and the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources, which also administers the program. Project areas include fisheries, wildlife, parks, mines, forestry and conservation authorities.

The federal government provides workers with their regular unemployment insurance benefits plus a supplement to a maximum of $315 a week. The Ministry of Natural Resources provides support costs as well as equipment and materials required to carry out the projects. The ministry may also provide a wage supplement to match prevailing wage rates.

Bring ideas for QAC

Where to go? What to do? How? Why? When?

These are only a few of the questions to be posed by the President of the Quinte Arts Council, Sandra Colden, at a gathering of Belleville citizens interested in the future direction of the arts in this area.

Representatives from the arts, business and education communities have been invited to attend a 'Think Tank' session at the Belleville Club on October 10, 1985, at 7 p.m.

Government representatives, service clubs and members of local senior citizens' communities have also been asked to bring ideas to the meeting.

Organized by Lynda Wheeler and Jim Alexander of the Quinte Arts Council

Board of Directors, the event is an important opportunity for members of the public to provide input into the Quinte Arts Council's long range planning process.

For more information, please phone Chris Johnson at 962-1232 between 1 and 5 p.m.

Film at St. John's

'Speaking Our Peace', a new hour-long documentary from the National Film Board will be shown on Wednesday, September 25, 8 p.m., at St. John's United Church, 26 Spring Street, Tweed.

'Speaking Our Peace' is a carefully structured and provocative essay on the current global crisis seen through the eyes of dedicated women working for lasting peace. It combines the directorial talents of Bonnie Sherr Klein (Not a Love Story) and Terri Nash (If You Love This Planet) with the scriptwriting skills of Gloria Demers (Behind the Veil).

'Speaking Our Peace' examines the insanity of militarism, by documenting the insights and vision of several women who dare to speak their peace. It also reveals the terrible extent to which 'World War Three' is already claiming its victims.

This Canadian documentary inspires action and provides an effective argument against the notion that the current nuclear arms build-up is somehow for our 'protection'.

The Tweed Action Group invites everyone to attend this viewing. This general meeting will be the first in a series which will act as an update on the activities and aspirations of the local peace movement in our area.

Representatives of the Tweed Action Group will give a report on the Ontario

Peace Co-alition Conference which they will attend September 21-22, at Ottawa University. Anyone wanting more information on this please call 478-5110.

Al's defeats Websters 21-12 in final game

Al's Angels defeated Webster Trucking 21-12 with the help of Allison Rowat's home run. In the final game, Denise Wright hit a home run to help Rowat's Rascals defeat the Flyers 16-4. As a result of the tournament, Al's Angels became league champions with a clean sweep. Rowat's Rascals were in second place with a 3 and 1 record. The Swingers were third with 2 and 2, Webster Trucking fourth with 1 and 3, and the Flyers in fifth place. Trophies were awarded for regular season play for Most Valuable, Most Improved and to the player with Most Runs. Scored. Winners of these trophies were: Flyers - MVP Lori Pressick, MIP

Bonnie Blake, MRS Janice Darling; Swingers - MVP Deb Taylor, MIP Cheryl Cromie, MRS Linda Wright; Al's Angels - MVP Allison Neale, MIP Judy

LaRush, MRS Bronwen Keating; Rowat's Rascals - MVP Linda Pollock, MIP Cindy Levesque, MRS Heather Reynolds; Don Webster Trucking -

MVP Maureen O'Grady, MIP Celia Bullock, MRS Arlene Webster. Medallions engraved with team standings were presented to each player.

Port Hope proved a tough opponent in Campbellford last week as they defeated the Campbellford juniors 4-0 and tied the seniors 1-1. The Campbellford juniors just hadn't had enough practice and playing time, according to their coach, but he says all the tools for a fine team are there. He expects them to do better before the season ends. The seniors showed a lot of pride by coming back from a 1-0 first half deficit. It was thought that Port Hope would be in much superior physical condition, but that didn't prove to be the case.

Reducing hunters accident rate

by Rick Morgan
It's time for another breakthrough in hunting safety, this time with visual rather than educational means. If all big and small game hunters wore hunter (blaze) orange, we could reduce Ontario's already low accident rate by as much as 75 per cent, says The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters.

Over the past two decades, hunter safety training and education programs have resulted in substantial improvements in the safety of the sport. Numbers tell the story eloquently. In the early 1960's, when hunter safety programs were just beginning, up to 150 hunting accidents were reported yearly. By the early 1980's, the annual rate had fallen to less than 50. Fatal accidents have declined even more spectacularly, from 36 deaths in 1960 to fewer than five in any year since 1980. Hunting is now one of the safest outdoor recreations, far less risky than skiing, skating, swimming or boating. In fact, a hunter is much safer in the field than he is driving on the highway. Even so, we can continue to work for improvements. The recent extension and modification of the hunter safety training program has included a new manual and more rigorous hunter education requirements. And the complete use of hunter orange can make hunting even safer simply by making hunters more visible in the field. In fact, having hunters wear the equivalent of a vest and hat - 500 square inches of blaze orange on their back, chest and head - will reduce hunting accidents by 75 per cent. In North America, nearly 40 states and provinces have mandatory hunter orange requirements. Those areas have all experienced a dramatic decline in the number of accidents in which a hunter has been mistaken for a game animal. There has also been a significant reduction in hunting accidents that have occurred because a member of the party was out of sight when the shot was fired. Hunter orange makes it far easier for members of a party to keep visual contact with each other both over long

OFAH approves Muskellunge brief

Ontario's largest provincial conservation association, the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters (OFAH) has asked the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources (OMNR) to improve its management of muskellunge. In a 10-page brief, the Federation has made 18 specific recommendations, including harvest regulation changes, better stocking programs, increased public education, and more research.

The muskellunge is a prize game fish. It has trophy status due to its fighting ability, large size, and unique challenge to catch. It is important in most areas of the province and is thought to be in danger if action isn't taken now. In various areas, too many muskies are being kept, they are being harvested before they reach spawning age, their habitat is being destroyed, and they are being displaced by pike.

After discussions at Zone meetings across the province, OFAH members approved the brief and its recommendations. Among them are raising the size limit to 38 inches identifying and protecting all major spawning areas, modernizing hatcheries and rearing the young to 8 or 10 inches before stocking, reducing harvest levels and establishing trophy waters. In addition, the Federation has asked that all muskellunge killed by commercial fishermen be turned over to the OMNR for research purposes.

The 50,000-member sportsmen's conservation association has submitted its brief to the Honourable Vince Kerrio, Minister of Natural Resources. Dedicated muskie fishermen hope Mr. Kerrio is listening.

Muskellunge - fresh water giant

BY NANCY RAHTZ
 Ministry of Natural Resources

If your idea of fishing is leaning back, dropping a line in the water and enjoying your catch for dinner that night, don't go after muskellunge. Muskie fishing is hard work. It requires patience, stamina and a lot more determination than most of us are prepared to give. Even experienced muskellunge fishermen can take up to 100 hours to hook a muskie, and some anglers have been known to spend years going back for one in particular that got away.

Muskie fishermen readily acknowledge that their fascination for this elusive fish borders on fanatical. Before they even hook one, they keep track of the number of times their lures are hit or followed.

When they finally land one, they usually put it back. They keep only exceptionally-sized fish, mostly for mounting.

Why do muskie anglers put so much time, effort and hard work into hooking a fish they won't eat and likely won't even keep? Maybe it's the stories of the 50 and 60 pounders that were common 30 years ago, or the prospect of breaking the world's record of almost 70 pounds set in 1957. Whatever the reason, the muskie angler will tell you that when you do hook one of these freshwater giants, there's nothing like it. To these fishermen, landing a muskellunge is the ultimate fishing challenge.

Muskellunge are members of the pike family and, next to the sturgeon, are Canada's largest freshwater fish. The name muskellunge is thought to be derived from an Indian word meaning "deformed pike."

But unlike the pike, which is found around the world, the muskellunge is restricted to eastern North America - from Lake Champlain, the St. Lawrence River and the Great Lakes basin, north to Lake Abitibi, west to Lake of the Woods and south to Iowa and Illinois.

Ontario alone contains an estimated 300 to 500 muskie lakes and rivers. The best-known muskie fisheries in Ontario are found in the St. Lawrence River, parts of Georgian Bay, the Kawartha Lakes, and Eagle and Wabigoon Lakes in Northwestern Ontario.

The standing world's record for muskellunge came out of the St. Lawrence River in 1957, weighing in at 69.9 pounds.

Slow, sedentary fish by nature, muskies like to lurk in weedy beds close to shore, where there is ample food to satisfy their enormous appetites. Their fierce reputation is due in part to their

CHSS Martial Arts club news

Little known in the West, the concept of 'chi' - or 'internal power' - has been for centuries an integral part of Oriental medicine and martial arts. Undoubtedly the most widely-reported method of 'chi' application has to be acupuncture, which to most eyes seems to involve the simple insertion of tiny needles into special places along the body, a mysterious cure from the Far East for anything from headaches to addiction to cigarettes.

A far more dramatic example of 'chi' application still must be one woman's act of lifting a car off her child pinned underneath - raw, willful, sudden, without previous knowledge, strength or training. 'Chi' - odourless, tasteless - travels through mind and body like a stream; blocked by tension and sickness, it stagnates; allowed to circulate and flow through exercise, it nourishes the body, giving health. This, it must be understood, is only a rough and cursory explanation of what has been studied and applied in the Orient for centuries.

There exists a long historical association between 'chi' and martial arts. It was understood long ago that to tap the stream of this marvellous energy unearthing hidden sources of strength, and survival. Personally, I can testify to having seen a grown man thrown more than fifteen feet across a floor with the mere flick of a wrist, and a relaxed wrist at that.

Somehow, it seems paradoxical to expect anyone to apply martial arts techniques while remaining relaxed, for we associate power with muscular strength; the more bulging the muscles the greater the effect that arm is going to have. Here mass almost equals efficiency.

But when we arrive at 'chi' training, and the 'soft, relaxed' application of strength, the words of the Chinese philosopher Lao Tze serve to explain the difference: what is hard, with age, becomes brittle, and therefore breaks; on the other hand, what is soft and flexible, gives away, bends and springs back. In a storm, grass survives where a tree can only be expected to topple.

References like these to Nature, always have been quite popular in the East. In order to learn how to open the tap, studies were made of animals: deer, bear, chicken, tiger, eagle, horse. Exercises resembling the physical movements of certain types of animals, helped, in the view of the martial artist, to increase the flow of 'chi' and eventually, to channel this flow at the individual's will.

The accompanying photo illustrates rather dramatically the flow of 'chi' in 'tameshiwari' or 'trial by wood'. Sensei Darryl Faulk-

es has broken all types of materials, from wood of course, to brick, block and stone. At the moment of impact, nothing exists to the breaker. No sound comes to his ears, and there is no outside, no inside. Even the wood seems not to exist. Reflective consciousness falls, and there remains only the surge of existing life energy.

The painting of instrument dials with radium luminous compounds created the first serious radiation overdose tragedy and such adverse publicity that the industry has never recovered. Before the dangers of radiation were well appreciated, the dials were painted, mostly by women, who moistened the tip of their paintbrush on their tongue in this way, they ingested large amounts of radium which, because of the chemical properties, became incorporated into their bones. In later years, the fatality rate of these women from bone cancer was alarming. This constitutes one of the landmark studies in the radiation health area.

In the 1920's, one of the most popular luminous items was a small pendant to hang on the end of a pull chain for an electric light. As wall switches replaced pull chains, this item disappeared.

One unusual consumer product, produced in mass in the 1920's and 1930's, is now an antique collectors item, not for its radioactive content, but for its art deco beauty. It is the famous California orange 'fiesta' dinnerware. The product, which used uranium dioxide in the glaze to give it a brilliant orange color, actually was a byproduct of the radium industry. In that period, radium was the desirable element and the parent uranium ore was discarded, as having no value except for the orange color of uranium dioxide. Today, this would be an impossible use for a radioactive substance, but at the time, millions of sets of this dinnerware were sold and used. Not all pieces have the 'fiesta' on the back, but its bright orange color is unmistakable and, of course, a Geiger counter spots it right away. The radioactivity is not dangerous but the ware should not be used for food because of the danger of ingesting chips of the glaze.

A few novelties have had sales in the hundreds of thousands. One is the famous 'Buck Rodgers Mystery Ring' from the 1950's in which scintillations of a small bit of zinc sulfide activated by polonium could be observed. This is considered to be one of the most successful cereal box premiums ever offered.

Crickets shouldn't be taken for granted

BY MIKE SINGLETON
Federation of Ontario Naturalists
FALL SERENADE

As dusk approaches, the troubadour advances to the mouth of his neatly arranged cave. Bow and fiddle held high (above his back), he commences his serenade. Treek.... Treek.... Treek....

Treeeeeeeeek. A few tuning strokes and the love song is under way. Soon - joined by hundreds, then thousands - the rousing chorus fills the night air. Her ladyship, target of the amour, strains her ears. (They're on her front elbows, of course.) Best singer chosen, she follows down the soundtrack, keeping herself 'on track' by keeping her ears (and elbows) pointed toward her would-be mate.

Crickets, in full song over the next few weeks, are taken for granted by most of us. But to those who'll take a close look, they are a remarkable group of insects.

So successful are crickets' adaptations that they very nearly blanket the globe's land areas, excepting only the polar regions. Nearly 1,500 different species have developed, each finely attuned to a different combination of terrain, weather and food. The result is that each region has huge numbers of just two or three different crickets.

The two common crickets in our region are often mistaken as adults and young of the same animal. In reality, the large black field cricket and small brown ground cricket are different species, which share a similar life history, but different song - it's the field cricket which is the loud, familiar songster.

The singing which we hear now, a critical phase in crickets' life cycle, is made only by males. Now moulting into adulthood in droves, they're equipped with large wings, which they don't use for flight, but rather for song. Each wing is equipped with

Muskellunge Ontario's elusive fresh water giant

Cont'd from page 2A size, as well as to their long, fang-like teeth and their tendency when hooked to fight on the surface.

But despite their reputation as big fish, the fact is that large, trophy-size muskellunge are now rare in Canada, and fish approaching world-record size have not been seen for over 20 years.

What is happening to the muskellunge? Do world-record size still exist? Are they giving way to fishing pressure? How long does it take to grow a 50 to 60 pound muskie? These and other questions are being looked at by the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources in an effort to better understand what is needed to maintain, and improve, the quality and quantity of Ontario's muskellunge population.

The first step has been establishing criteria for study, says MNR fisheries scientist Dr. John Casselman. 'We have been reviewing the muskellunge situation for some time,' says Casselman. 'In 1982, the ministry formed a committee to produce a prioritized list of research needs for the species. Since the list was developed, several research studies have been initiated that pertain directly to muskie populations.'

The committee found that a survey of anglers, fishery workers and biologists showed unanimous agreement on key areas needing study. One of the most important priorities for all groups was the identification and protection of muskie spawning and nursery area requirements - with the goal of starting programs of habitat improvement.

Most groups did not consider fish culture to be high on the list, but signs of self-reproduction in stocked muskie populations have since prompted the ministry to take another look at the importance and implications of stocking muskellunge.

Perhaps the biggest breakthrough in muskellunge research has been in determining just how long it takes for this fish to reach trophy size? While it was once believed that it took only 12 to 18 years, it has now been established that it actually takes from 20 to 30 years.

'The implications of this are enormous,' says Casselman. 'Rebuilding the quality of the muskie fishery to where it was in the 1950s will take longer than we thought, and will require extra diligence on the part of every muskie fisherman. To get a 30-year-old fish, they've got to put back the 20-year-old ones.'

The more accurate method of aging muskellunge and pike was developed by Casselman in the 1960s. The usual method uses a fish's scales to determine age. Casselman discovered that on older or slow-growing pike and muskies, the markings on the cleithrum bone - counted in much the same way as rings on a tree stump - were more accurate and reliable in determining age than the scale method. The cleithrum is a large, flat crescent-shaped bone lying immediately behind the gill opening on each side of the fish, supporting the front fins.

Dr. Ed Crossman of the Royal Ontario Museum (ROM) has worked closely with Casselman for over six years on what they call The Cleithrum Project. 'After establishing that the cleithrum bone is a reliable indicator of age, as well as other biological data, we decided to create a research repository at the museum for muskie and pike cleithra,' says Crossman. The joint study was initiated by MNR and the ROM in 1979.

With some funding from the museum and the Muskies Canada organization, and the help of volunteers, Crossman and Casselman asked anglers and taxidermists in Canada and the U.S. to clean and send in cleithrum bones from muskies and pike. 'We can find out more than age from this bone. It also allows us to determine the rate of growth of the fish, size at different ages, sex based on growth rate and whether the fish is a muskie or a muskie/pike hybrid,' Crossman says.

Kits containing special mailing envelopes and illustrated instructions for bone removal have been sent to muskie clubs and hundreds of taxidermists across North America. A cleithrum bone can easily be removed by a taxidermist without destroying the appearance of the fish for mounting. The senders are also requested to provide specific information such as length, girth, sex, date and location of capture.

'We acknowledge receipt of the bones and always notify the senders of the age of their fish,' says Crossman. 'The response has been excellent although we're still getting far more from Wisconsin than we are from Ontario. We'd like to see more Ontario taxidermists and anglers getting involved in the project.' Crossman says interest in the project has been expressed from as far away as Europe and England.

A museum volunteer is working on a computer program for the Cleithrum

Project data, which will summarize biological information for muskellunge populations across North America.

'We're finding out a lot of things about muskie distribution that we didn't know before,' says Crossman. 'The information will be valuable in determining the direction of muskellunge management programs in the future.'

Ironically, Casselman says one of the biggest things muskies have going for them are the muskie fishermen themselves. 'Through their support of the Cleithrum Project, as well as their involvement in other surveys and projects, organizations like Muskies Canada and the U.S. Muskies Inc. have been invaluable sources of data for

Money Market Fund has benefits

BY HARRY L. MARDON

A fairly new type of mutual fund has started to become quite popular in Canada. It's called a Money Market Fund. This type of fund provides some very positive benefits to those savers and investors who are looking for a high yield, a minimum amount of risk and easy access to their money. A Money Market Fund offers all three, and at very low cost.

Usually it is impossible to combine all these factors. For example, a bank savings account will provide accessibility and minimal risk. But the yield or interest paid to you by the bank will be comparatively low. An alternative would be to buy a bank Term Deposit certificate. Again, there's practically no risk and the interest would be considerably higher than your savings account would pay.

However, you wouldn't have easy access to your money. It would be locked up until the end of the period of time specified in the 'term' of the deposit certificate.

Here's where the Money Market Fund comes in. A well-run fund will provide, at virtually no risk, a rate of return comparable to Term Deposits - but without locking in your money for any time period. In the financial world this is called 'liquidity'. You can obtain your money upon request; perhaps not on the same day you ask for it but within a full business day.

This type of mutual fund is able to do this because your money is pooled with others and invested in short-term money market securities. These securities are offered by governments, banks and major corporations who need to borrow money on a short-term basis, and will pay above-average interest for the use of that money.

Once you have invested in a Money Market Fund your money is continually at work for you. Interest is allocated daily and compounded monthly. You can leave the money in your fund account indefinitely, if you wish, and allow the interest it earns to enjoy the rewards of compounding. (The interest earned will go to buy more units of the fund, which in turn earns interest.)

You could elect to take your monthly interest income in cash. However, this option isn't usually available unless you have at least $10,000 invested in your fund account.

Another option which is available from some mutual fund companies is that your investment can be established as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan (RRSP). If you select this choice, your contributions to the fund are tax deductible - within the usual RRSP contribution limits. A further advantage of having a RRSP account is that the compounded interest is fully tax sheltered during the lifetime of the RRSP.

But generally speaking, a Money Market Fund is best suited as a convenient place to 'park' money while earning a good interest rate for short periods of time. In itself it is not an ideal long-term investment. That's because interest income is fully taxable at your marginal tax rate, once you have claimed the $1,000 per year interest income exemption in your income tax return.

For the short term, however, you can invest $1,000 or more in a Money Market Fund and enjoy a high degree of safety, good yield, liquidity and professional management of your money. Your investment should experience stability as money market securities do not undergo wild fluctuations. (Mr. Mardon is manager of corporate communications for The Investors Group, the Winnipeg-based financial planning services company.)

us," he says. "There is no doubt that muskie fishermen are a special breed. They have a genuine concern for the species and will assist in whatever way they can to maintain muskellunge populations."

This concern and co-operation is also evident in the concept of catch and release promoted by muskie fishermen everywhere.

Although the muskellunge is a good eating fish, most muskie anglers would rather release a fish than eat it. They keep only trophy-size fish, usually at least 40 inches in length, that they wish to mount. 'Catch and release is the best method of reducing pressure on muskie populations, without curtailing angling opportunities,' says Casselman.

That's good news for the next generation of muskie fishermen who otherwise might eventually come to regard those stories of 70 pounders as being closer to fiction than fact.

Reducing hunters accident rate

distances and in thick cover. Hunter orange, first marketed about 20 years ago, is the only color that will make hunters more visible under all conditions of light and cover.

Red, once regarded as the traditional color for hunting, is no longer recommended for two reasons. Among the 10 per cent of the population that has color vision deficiencies, many suffer from red-green color blindness, and may not be able to distinguish red easily. And, early and late in the day, red becomes difficult for almost anyone to distinguish.

The startled look on a television producer's face is my personal reminder of the superiority of blaze orange over red. Two of us - me in blaze orange, my companion in red - were behind an evergreen tree for a television program on hunter safety. I was visible but when my friend stepped out from behind the tree, the producer was so startled to see a second person, his jaw nearly hit the ground.

If some colors aren't noticeable, others are dangerous. White, for example, is an extremely poor color choice. Recently, a hunting fatality in eastern Canada was caused by a hunter mistaking a white cap for the white tail of a deer. And yellow, once thought to be a safe color, appears to be white under the light conditions of sunrise and sunset.

Blaze orange - fluorescent orange with a dominant wave length of 595-605 n.m. (light intensity), a purity of not less than 85 per cent and a luminance factor of not less than 40 per cent - is the most easily seen and recognized unnatural color against a natural background under all light and weather conditions.

Hunter orange is, in fact, twice as bright as natural objects seen in the bush. The color glows because it converts ultraviolet and blue light waves to visible orange, enhancing the orange reflected back to the viewer by white light. Those who aren't familiar with the color have probably seen it worn by highway construction crews.

One of the reasons for reluctance in making blaze orange mandatory for hunting is the objections of some hunters who feel that blaze orange will reduce their hunting success. But in areas where hunter orange has been made mandatory, deer harvest has increased while the accident rate plummeted. In Maine, for example, when blaze orange became mandatory, a quarter of a million hunters wore it and, for the first time in history, the state had no hunting fatalities. Meanwhile, their big game harvest was as high as ever.

I have had deer walk within a few feet of me while I was wearing blaze orange. It is movement, noise and scent that spook wildlife, not color. Mammals, in particular, are believed to only see colors as shades of grey.

Members of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters have, over the years, taken a leading role in hunter safety. Recently, they passed a resolution asking for blaze orange to be a requirement for all hunters except waterfowlers and big game bowhunters.

The results are bound to be positive. Hunting accidents will diminish. Parties in the woods will be able to maintain visual contact with each other more easily, and lost hunters will be much easier for searchers to spot.

Be safe. Be seen. Wear hunter orange.

O'Neil to promote Ontario investment and trade in Japanese visit

Industry, Trade and Technology Minister Hugh P. O'Neil will visit Japan September 7 to 12, to encourage more Japanese investment in Ontario and promote the province's exports.

Mr. O'Neil, who is the first member of Premier Peterson's new government to visit Japan, said he will meet senior officials in Japanese government and trade associations, agents and distributors for Ontario businesses as well as executives from large companies who are potential investors in Ontario.

'Japan is a leader in the three areas my ministry deals with - industry, trade and technology,' Mr. O'Neil said. 'There are increasing opportunities for Ontario businesses to do business with Japan.'

How to waste money in 10 easy steps

Some self-improvement programs should be subtitled, 'How to waste lots of money in 10 easy steps,' say consumer experts.

Many fad diets, 'instant' hair growth plans and other schemes promising overnight results simply exploit people who feel insecure about themselves, says Roberta Allan, chief consumer advisor for the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations (MCCR).

'There's nothing wrong with wanting to be slimmer, healthier, more attractive or less shy and some programs do help people achieve their personal goals,' she says. 'But anyone who wants to reach that goal overnight, becomes easy prey for unethical sellers.'

Whether you plan to take acting lessons or join a fitness program, investigate the companies carefully.

Are advertising claims unrealistic or perhaps even fraudulent? Do you really believe anyone can lose 40 pounds in a month?

Ask for a list of previous customers and contact a few of them to find out if they were satisfied with the program.

Try to find a friend or relative who can recommend a particular course or club.

Comparison shop. Local community groups may offer economical alternatives to expensive

Find out what your money is buying. Is that 'miraculous' method of improving your I.Q. just a sales pitch for an overpriced encyclopedia? In general, be wary of 'miracles', 'unheard of results', 'instant' anything and other 'too good to be true' offers.

A number of consumers have responded to 'Be a Star' ads placed by companies who seem to be looking for children to appear in films and television commercials. Hopeful parents whisk their youngsters to the studio for 'screen tests' and are often told the children show great potential but could use help in certain areas. A sales pitch follows and some parents end up buying expensive acting lessons from the companies who placed the ads.

'Sure you are getting something for your money when you enrol a child in a class, but remember that very few people ever make a successful career out of acting,' says Dave Mitchell, head of investigation and enforcement for MCCR.

Some children do benefit from the lessons and later get work in the industry. But if parents want to enrol their children in acting school, they should shop around, asking questions about class sizes and teacher qualifications. Don't get hooked into a program on the basis of an appealing ad alone.

If you decide to join a self-improvement program of any type, a contract will probably be involved. Check it over carefully and don't sign up for more than one year at a time.

The contract should include the name and address of buyer and seller, a detailed description of goods or services and an itemized price list. Be sure to get any promises of future jobs or personal successes in writing, but don't make them the basis of your decision to join.

Financing charges must also be set out. These contracts are normally binding and cannot be cancelled. If a large amount of money is involved, take the extra time to show the contract to the lawyer.

Anyone who feels they have been misled by a company should contact the nearest consumer services bureau of MCCR.

Under certain circumstances the Consumer Protection Act (CPA) gives you two clear working days to cancel contracts for more than $50 that are signed in your home. This cooling-off period does not apply if you pay with a cheque, credit card or cash for services or goods that are delivered immediately. If performance of services, delivery of goods or payment are to take place in the future, you should be able to cancel the deal within two days.

Staff at a local consumer services bureau can offer advice on individual situations.

Dear News Editor:

Once again, this year, the 32,000-member Ontario Real Estate Association is sponsoring Private Property Week.

This year, the dates are October 6-14, winding up, as usual, on Thanksgiving Day.

The 1985 theme is 'Come, honor our heritage' and I am pleased to send along a copy of both the brochure and poster for Ontario. For the first time, Private Property Week is a co-operative venture from coast to coast with the Canadian Real Estate Association. In Ontario, the poster illustrates Canada's inventive heritage as represented by the home-estate of Alexander Graham Bell in Brantford. In other areas of the nation, Canada's artistic heritage is represented by the Emily Carr birthplace in B.C., our literary heritage by Anne of Green Gables home in PEI, our political traditions by the Diefenbaker home in Saskatchewan and our entrepreneurial heritage by La Maison Trestler in Quebec.

Further information on Private Property Week, entrenchment of property rights in the Canadian Constitution, and property rights erosion in Ontario among others, will be forwarded to you later this month. In the meantime, if you would like a complete set of the five heritage homes posters, please let me know. All five are represented on the cover of the brochure.

Regards,
Barrie Doyle

differences.

The nymphs will immediately begin feeding voraciously, upon a variety of plant material. Occasionally, they'll also eat invertebrates, or under stress of overcrowding, each other. In time, they seek out or enlarge cavities - as little caves - under stones, boards or debris. Sometimes they'll enlarge the mouths of abandoned insect or worm burrows.

The crickets pass through a series of moults, each time splitting and shedding their rigid outer skin (which acts as a skeleton) to reveal a new larger one beneath.

Because they're so efficient at converting huge quantities of plant material into crickets, and so effective at hiding and moving quickly to escape through meadow's lattice, vast numbers make it to the final moult, which gives us our thousands - millions - of troubadours about this time each fall.

Crickets are among the many, highly beneficial insects: that help convert plant material back into soil nutrients, at the same time, providing food for a host of other animals. Our native crickets are harmless and fascinating indeed.

Why not renew an acquaintance, forgotten since childhood? It's as easy as looking under a board. Or, listening to the chorus this evening.

opportunities for trade and economic co-operation between us. In 1984, Ontario exports to Japan increased by 68 per cent, to about $427 million, making the country our third largest export market.

'And such measures as relaxation of standards and certification procedures, tariff cuts, liberalization of financial and capital markets, and import promotion will lead to more potential opportunities for

Ontario exporters.' On September 10, Mr. O'Neil will visit Toyota City to meet with Toyota Motor Corporation officials. During his trip, Mr. O'Neil also will meet representatives of such companies as the Honda Motor Company as well as the Electronics Association of Japan, the Japan Automobile Manufacturers Association, the Japan Auto Parts Industries Association and the Japan External Trade Organization.

BANNON - In loving memory of my dear husband, Jack, who passed away September 23, 1984. In tears we saw you sinking, I watched you fade away. My heart was almost broken, You fought so hard to stay. But when I saw you sleeping, So peacefully free from pain. I could not wish you back, To suffer that again. Now it's been one year since then, But no one knows the heartache. And the thousand silent tears. Sadly missed and never forgotten, by Wife Hazel.

DOBSON - In loving memory of our dear son Edward (Ted), who passed away Sept. 17th, 1982. Memories are like threads of gold. They never tarnish or grow old. So loved and sadly missed by Mom & Dad.

RUNNALLS, Vernon - Passed away Sept. 25th, 1982. Ever remembered, ever loved. Wife Marion.

SOLMES & FORBES - In loving memory a dear son, Lorne, and son-in-law, Bob, who passed away September 6, and September 23, 1978. To-day recalls the memory. Of loved ones close to rest. And those who think of them to-day. Are those who loved them best. The flowers we lay upon their graves, May wither and decay. But the love for those who lie beneath, Will never fade away. Sadly missed by Mom & Dad, brothers and sisters.

WELLMAN, Brian - In memory of a dear son and brother who, passed away September 22/70. A little tribute small and tender. Just to say we still remember. Sadly missed by Mom & Dad, sisters and brothers.

HELPING PEOPLE

The Story of the Salvation Army

Managing Your Money

BY HARRY L. MARDON
The art of sound money management is to spread your risk. This applies whether you're a saver or an investor.

In all too many cases where Canadians suffered severe financial losses you will find they had put all of their money into a single risky investment.

There's an old stockbroker's saying: Don't risk more than you can afford to lose.

If everybody followed that advice there would be precious little risk capital in the country, because no sensible person undertakes an investment with the idea of losing money. We all invest money in stocks, bonds, mutual funds, real estate or what-have-you in the expectation of profiting from the deal.

The possibility of losing all your money is rarely considered. However, because it's always there as a possibility, you should take some precautions.

There are several tried-and-true approaches which will minimize your exposure to risk. (You'll probably never be able to completely avoid risk unless you buy only government bonds or put your money in government-guaranteed financial instruments. There are drawbacks to taking that course of action.)

The first step to take before you undertake any savings or investment program is determine your own risk "comfort zone". If you're married, your spouse's attitude toward risk should be incorporated into the decision-making process.

If you're the type of person who has an aversion to taking risks in the way you drive or conduct yourself at work, in all likelihood you will want to avoid any high-risk investment. To preserve financial peace of mind, you will want to deal with a financial institution which is well-established and well-managed.

On the other hand,

Don't Underestimate Your Feet

By Ralph Heron Manager

Do you know that your feet are capable of doing things you never dreamed possible? We have heard of amputees who were able to shave, feed themselves, even play the piano with their feet. That's pretty amazing for feet. But we often take them for granted until they give us trouble. Then they're very important. Do you realize how many hundreds perhaps thousands of steps you take every day? And how much pressure your feet are required to bear, with the weight of your entire body.

We don't take your feet for granted. We go to great pains to see that you go without pain in your feet. Trust us to fit your family's shoes with the utmost of skill and interest. We think your feet are very important.

if you're a bit of a gambler, willing to take reasonable risks and able to absorb possible financial setbacks, security for your savings and investment dollars is probably not your uppermost concern. This type of person may even enjoy the thrills and chills which go with making risky investments. However, the vast majority of Canadians fit somewhere between these two extremes.

Where you actually position yourself depends upon your personal background, knowledge level, experience and financial circumstances, as well as personality and attitude. There's an inscription in the ancient Grecian temple at Delphi: 'Know thyself.' That is the first commandment for all savers and investors.

One thing to keep in mind is that there are trade-offs associated with the degree of risk attached to various savings and investment vehicles. As a general rule, the higher the risk, the higher the potential reward. By the same token, the lower the risk, the lower the yield you'll get from your money.

Deer tags

The number of validation tags sent to deer hunters in Ontario this year has increased by almost one-third over 1984, Natural Resources Minister Vincent Kerrio said recently.

More than 36,700 deer hunting validation tags were mailed to sportsmen across the province on September 3.

The increase in tags issued corresponds to the increasing number of deer in Ontario, Mr. Kerrio said. The growth in deer herds can be attributed to moderate winters, as well as to our selective deer harvest program, now in its sixth year.

The validation tags are issued annually by the Ministry of Natural Resources to control the number of antlerless deer - females and fawns - taken during the season. MNR allocates the tags on the basis of a random draw held this year on August 23.

Provincially, a hunter had a better than 50 per cent chance of receiving a tag in 1985. The number of tags issued to hunters in the traditional central Ontario deer range was up nearly 60 per cent.

The fact that 68,697 hunters entered this year's draw - an increase of 8,775 applicants over 1984 - indicates the continued popularity of deer hunting as an outdoor recreation activity, the Minister said.

Hog barn warmer

A Renfrew County hog farmer was able to reduce energy costs in heating his finishing barn using adapted technology funded in part by a Canada-Ontario Eastern Ontario Subsidiary Agreement (EOSA) program.

Jack Fletcher of RR 3, Cobden, had a prototype tube and shell heat exchanger installed to provide extra heat needed in his 350 hog finishing barn. The exchanger is a series of 98 polyethylene tubes in a baffle shell, fixed to the largest of three air ventilators on one wall of the barn. The barn's exhaust air is fanned into the tubes transferring warmth to incoming fresh air.

The unit has a damper motor on a time clock to close shutters at intervals stopping the inflow of outside air, so the exhaust air passing through the tubes can help thaw any ice build-up inside the shell.

Using the heat exchanger, Fletcher can save more than $850 annually. Total cost of the project was $5,000. Fletcher received assistance under the Agricultural Technology Transfer Program.

The program was funded jointly by the governments of Canada and Ontario under the 1979-84 Eastern Ontario Subsidiary Agreement.
